The Mythic Image:

The Mythic Image Joseph Campbell, Marie-Jeanne Abadie, 1981-11-21 This book presents approximately 450 illustrations of mythic art from Mesopotamian Egyptian Indian Chinese European and Olmec cultures as a basis for an exploration into the relation of dreams to myth The Mythic Image Joseph Campbell, Marie-Jeanne Abadie, 1974 Starting with the relation of dreams to myth Joseph Campbell distinguishes two orders of myth that of the relatively simple nonliterate folk traditions and that of the infinitely more complex literate civilizations that culminated in the triad of the great world religions Buddhism Christianity and Islam Cover The Mythic Image Joseph Campbell, 1974 The Mythic Image Joseph Campbell, M. J. Abadie, 1982 The Poem in the Story Harold Scheub, 2002-12-05 Fact and fiction meet at the boundaries the betwixt and between where transformations occur This is the area of ambiguity where fiction and fact become endowed with meaning and this is the area where ambiguity irony and metaphor join forces that Harold Scheub exposes in all its nuanced and evocative complexity in The Poem in the Story In a career devoted to exploring the art of the African storyteller Scheub has conducted some of the most interesting and provocative investigations into nonverbal aspects of storytelling the complex relationship between artist and audience and most dramatically the role played by poetry in storytelling This book is his most daring effort yet an unconventional work that searches out what makes a story artistically engaging and emotionally evocative the metaphorical center that Scheub calls the poem in the story Drawing on extensive fieldwork in southern Africa and decades of experience as a researcher and teacher Scheub develops an original approach a blend of field notes diary entries photographs and texts of stories and poems that guides readers into a new way of viewing even experiencing meaning in a story Though this work is largely focused on African storytelling its universal applications emerge when Scheub brings the work of storytellers as different as Shakespeare and Faulkner into the discussion Red Lodge and the Mythic West Bonnie Christensen, 2002 Tracing the story of Red Lodge from the 1880s to the present Christensen tells how a mining town managed to endure the vagaries of the West's unpredictable extractive industries economy She connects Red Lodge to a myriad of larger events and historical forces to show how national and regional influences have contributed to the development of local identities exploring how and why westerners first rejected and then embraced western images and how ethnicity wilderness and historic preservation became part of the identity that defined one town BOOK JACKET A Rhetoric of Motives Kenneth Burke, 1969-10 The system is a coherent and total vision a self-contained and internally consistent way of viewing man the various scenes in which he lives and the drama of human relations enacted upon those scenes W H Rueckert Kenneth Burke and the Drama of Human Relations To Remember the Faces of the Dead Thomas Maschio, 1994 As he challenges classical semiological accounts of cultural representation in this ethnography of Melanesian religious phenomenology Thomas Maschio shows that ritual and poetic performance are about the enactment expression and invention of the self Maschio demonstrates how such emotions as nostalgia anger sadness and grief are creatively transformed during the course of religious performance and expression into a form of cultural memory one that juxtaposes a pattern of cultural meaning with the emotional feeling of plenitude the Melanesian Rauto call makai Evoked during initiation mourning and agricultural rites and figuring prominently in Rauto discourse about the self makai joins personal memory to patterned sets of images and meanings that Westerners would call culture

Realism and Psychological Science David J. F. Maree, 2020-06-02 The book provides an argument why realism is a viable metatheoretical framework for psychological science By looking at some variations of realism such as scientific realism critical realism situational realism and Ferraris new realism a realist view of science is outlined that can feature as a metatheory for psychological science Realism is a necessary correction for the mythical image of science responsible for and maintained by a number of dichotomies and polarities in psychology Thus the quantitative qualitative dichotomy scientist practitioner polarity and positivist constructionist opposition feed off and maintains a mythic image of science on levels of practice methods and metatheory Realism makes a clear distinction between ontology and epistemic access to reality the latter which easily fits with softer versions of constructionism and the former which grounds science in resistance and possibility loosely translated as criticism By taking science as a critical activity an issue such as the quantitative imperative loses its defining force as a hallmark of science it provides epistemic access to certain parts of reality In addition essentially critical activities characteristic of various qualitative approaches may be welcomed as proper science Academics professionals and researchers in psychology would find value in situating their scholarly work in a realist metatheory avoiding the pitfalls of traditional methodologies and theories
