The Storm of the Century Al Roker, 2015-08-11 In this gripping narrative history Al Roker from NBC's Today and the Weather Channel vividly examines the deadliest natural disaster in American history a haunting and inspiring tale of tragedy heroism and resilience that is full of lessons for today's new age of extreme weather On the afternoon of September 8 1900 two hundred mile per hour winds and fifteen foot waves slammed into Galveston the booming port city on Texas's Gulf Coast By dawn the next day the city that hours earlier had stood as a symbol of America's growth and expansion was now gone Shattered grief stricken survivors emerged to witness a level of destruction never before seen Eight thousand corpses littered the streets and were buried under the massive wreckage Rushing water had lifted buildings from their foundations smashing them into pieces while wind gusts had upended steel girders and trestles driving them through house walls and into sidewalks No race or class was spared its wrath In less than twenty four hours a single storm had destroyed a major American metropolis and awakened a nation to the terrifying power of nature Blending an unforgettable cast of characters accessible weather science and deep historical research into a sweeping and dramatic narrative The Storm of the Century brings this legendary hurricane and its aftermath into fresh focus No other natural disaster has ever matched the havoc caused by the awesome mix of winds rain and flooding that devastated Galveston and shocked a young optimistic nation on the cusp of modernity Exploring the impact of the tragedy on a rising country's confidence the trauma of the loss and the determination of the response Al Roker illuminates the United States's character at the dawn of the American Century while also underlining the fact that no matter how mighty they may become all nations must respect the ferocious potential of our natural environment
