Zbrano Delo:

Mirror of Reality and Dreams Irena Avsenik Nabergoj, 2008 This book deals with the works of Ivan Cankar the greatest Slovenian writer focusing on his relation to existential social and moral reality as reflected in individuals and in society at large The method of literary analysis shows a surprising harmony between personal confessions and a rich symbolism that reveals the writer's unconditional belief in the power of conscience strong conviction of the sense of victims and the longing for the triumph of love and justice A holistic interpretation yields the conclusion that most of Cankar's works are confessions that purport to be true to life His inclination to self disclosure in dreams alongside the objective disclosure of imperceptible reality indicates that expressive language and a lyrical style are of vital importance to him Challenging the Traditional Axioms Nike K. Pokorn, 2005-04-26 Translation into a non mother tongue or inverse translation especially of literary texts has always been frowned upon within Translation Studies in Western cultures and regarded by literary scholars and linguists as an activity of dubious worth doomed to fail The study which received an award from EST in 2001 sets out to challenge the established view and to critically question some of the axiomatic assumptions of Western theorists Its challenge is supported by extensive empirical research involving reader response to translations of specific literary texts The conclusion reached is that the quality of the translation its fluency and acceptability in the target language environment depend primarily on the as yet undetermined individual abilities of the particular translator his/her translation strategy and knowledge of the source and target cultures and not on his/her mother tongue or the direction in which s/he is translating Aging in Slavic Literatures Dagmar Gramshammer-Hohl, 2017-07-15 In Slavic studies aging and old age have thus far been only marginal concerns This volume brings together the scattered research that has been done up to now on aging as represented and narrated in Slavic literatures The essays investigate Bosnian Croatian Serbian Polish Russian Slovak Slovene and Ukrainian representations of age aging in various literary genres and epochs and analyze age as a powerful marker of difference and as constitutive of social relations and personal identity Partisans in Yugoslavia Miranda Jakisa, Nikica Gilic, 2015-03-15 The ubiquitous Partisan narrative in Yugoslavia served well as founding myth of its newly united people Its retrospective deconstruction has absorbed most of the academic attention for the Yugoslav Partisans since the break up This edition in contrast looks into the hybrid nature of partisanship itself as it appears in film art and literature It explores the Partisans in Yugoslavia in Partisan novels films and songs analyzes the still ongoing transformation process of the Partisan narrative and reviews its transitions into popular visual culture Poetics and Politics Toni Bernhart, Jaša Drnovsek, Sven Thorsten Kilian, Joachim Küpper, Jan Mosch, 2018-08-21 Far from teleological historiography the pan European perspective on Early Modern drama offered in this volume provides answers to why how where and when the given phenomena of theatre appear in history Using theories of circulation and other concepts of exchange transfer and movement the authors analyze the development and differentiation of European secular and religious drama within the disciplinary framework of comparative literature and the history of literature and concepts Within this frame aspects of major interest are the relationship between tradition and innovation the status of genre the proportion of autonomous and heteronomous creational dispositions within the artefacts or genres they belong to as well as strategies of functionalization in the context of a given part of the cultural net Contributions cover a broad range of topics including poetics of Early Modern Drama political institutional and social practices history of themes and motifs Stoffgeschichte history of genres cross fertilization between genres textual traditions and distribution of texts questions of originality and authorship theories of circulation and net structures in Drama Studies
