Candace Clifford,1991-12 A welcomed guidebook for anyone interested in historic ships and their preservation J Revell Carr President Mystic Seaport Museum Jim Delgado and Candace Clifford have produced a work that makes rewarding reading as well as provides an invaluable source of information on maritime heritage Their adventurous exploration of this heritage will interest more people in saving our historic ships Peter Stanford President National Maritime Historical Society Our maritime heritage is perhaps best represented by ships ships that brought our ancestors to the New World that fought in battles to protect our shores that moved people and goods from one coast to another and along the continent s great waterways and that opened up commerce in foreign lands Yet for all their great importance ships are among the most fragile of historic resources They are especially subject to neglect and require extraordinary care to preserve them And they cannot be as easily put to new uses as old buildings requiring therefore a special dedication if they are preserved Great American Ships for the first time celebrates this part of our national maritime heritage Here are cataloged more than 225 ships on view to the public from Maine to Hawaii including riverboats battleships ocean liners fishing craft yachts and submarines Naval Camouflage 1914-1945 David L. Williams,2001 Although it is a subject of immense importance to warship enthusiasts modelmakers photograph collectors and indeed academic naval historians there has never been an authoritative history of camouflage Apart from the huge scale of the subject the reason for this lies largely in the fragmented nature of the surviving evidence and the ad hoc nature of much wartime development This book does not claim to be such a narrative history but it does set out to provide a comprehensive study Visual and illustrative in its approach it is Anglo American in emphasis but the camouflage patterns of enemy navies and selected neutrals are covered as well The Central Pacific Campaign, 1943-1944 James T. Controvich,1990 A guide to the literature surrounding American amphibious operations during WWII Brief annotations Subject arrangement Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR United States Battleships Alan Frederick Pater,1968
