

MY PERSONAL PHILOSOPHY

BY: JUANITA H. NAVARRO
MAED-STUDENT

Each one of us have different philosophies and perceptions in life. Maybe my own philosophy is quite different from yours or if there is a similarity maybe in some areas or genres. I am a person that comes from a very poor family. A person that faced too much trials and tragedies before I became successful. My family situation before is too different from others. Every time I saw a happy family I felt too much jealous. My parents always left us even I was in my elementary years. At the age of 6, I was able to cook and washed our dresses because my parents isn't around to do it. I could still remember how many times I cried because I doesn't want them to left us but they didn't listen to me. I said to myself, does I'm important to my parents? Why they didn't listen to me? I need them. I need their presence, care, love and affection like what other parents did to their children.

I've grown without my parent's companion. I have started my life's journey without their presence. If they were at home, they were always quarrelling each other. I never understand before how was it feels like to have a happy family life. My life seems so miserable. They didn't even let me understand the importance of having a good future. In short, I am the only one discovered the importance of it. I never felt that they valued my achievements. It was my decision to study hard to earn a degree in order to have a better life in the future. In my teenage years I could say that my life was not meaningful like other children. I could still remembered the time when my neighbors bullied me because we don't had food to eat. We looked like beggars because sometimes we asked others their leftover foods or if there's not we eat camote tops, or whatever we may got from our farm just to fill our empty stomachs. It seems that my parents escaped from their obligations.

Above all, I could say that I am so lucky because behind all my experiences, God never left me. He filled the emptiness that I had been felt. That's why I became who am I today.

My philosophies in life looks like this. I do not want others experience what I have been through. That's why as a teacher I always tried my very best to help my pupils understand the importance of studying and how their parents sacrifice for them to have a better life. I am so fun of giving advises to my children because I don't want them to suffer in the near future. I like doing things that can give happiness to others. I always prefer to fulfill others need rather than myself. Giving what is the best for them is what I'd like to do. Many says my heart is so wide that even others can occupied. I never look at what will remain on me because I love and trust God above all. I may not become who am I today without Him. That is why I tried to be good like how God does because I wanted to be a good example to others. I hate people who have no perceptions in life. Who feels happy when others suffer too much from pain or make other people's life miserable. Who contented only of what he/she have. Who never sacrifice in order to have a meaningful and fruitful life. I hate people who uses others just to satisfy their

Signs from the Future Santiago Zabala, 2025-10-28 We are constantly being warned but we seldom heed warnings. Cautioned about authoritarian leaders, climate change, technological dystopias, or other catastrophes, we fail to take action or even take them seriously. Too often warnings are dismissed much like the artists, scientists, environmentalists, and intellectuals who deliver them. Why don't we listen? Santiago Zabala asks us to think of philosophy as a warning, a call to heed ominous signs from the future. He argues that warnings, as distinct from predictions, invite us to see the possibility of a radical break from the present. Predictions tell us to submit to the inevitable, but warnings ask us to take part in shaping a different future. A philosophy of warnings offers an alternative horizon of understanding beyond the real and the normal, and a politics of warnings helps us confront hidden emergencies through collective interpretation, listening, and action. Signs from the Future places thinkers such as Nietzsche, Heidegger, de Beauvoir, and Arendt into conversation with present-day politics, art, and culture, drawing our attention to unheeded warnings. This timely and engaging book shows why unresolved crises from the past must be interpreted anew today if we are to imagine an equitable future or a future at all. Dogeaters Jessica Hagedorn, 1991-07-01 An original, raw, and wild novel that has held its power and demands to be read. Viet Thanh Nguyen, Pulitzer Prize-winning author of The Sympathizer, Finalist for the National Book Award for Fiction and Winner of the American Book Award. A classic and influential story often considered the quintessential Filipino American novel. The Nation, centered on the cultural and political stakes of life in Marcos's era Philippines. One of The Atlantic's Great American Novels of the Past 100 Years. Welcome to Manila in the turbulent period of the Philippines' late dictator. It is a world in which American pop culture and local Filipino tradition mix flamboyantly, and gossip, storytelling, and extravagant behavior thrive. A wildly disparate group of characters, including movie stars and waiters, a young junkie, and the richest man in the Philippines, becomes ensnared in a spiral of events culminating in a beauty pageant, a film festival, and an assassination. At the center of this maelstrom is Rio, a feisty schoolgirl who will grow up to live in America and look back with longing on the land of her youth. The Story of the Winged S Igor Sikorsky, 2020-01-09 The Story of the Winged S, first published in 1938, is the autobiography of aviation pioneer Igor Sikorsky (1889-1972). The author looks back and traces the development of his many groundbreaking fixed-wing aircraft and helicopter designs during his long career in Russia, Europe, and the United States. Herndon, 2016-01-30 After Abraham Lincoln's assassination in 1865, William H. Herndon began work on a brief subjective biography of his former law partner, but his research turned up such unexpected and often startling information that it became a lifelong obsession. The biography, finally published in 1889, Herndon's Lincoln was a collaboration with Jesse W. Weik, in which Herndon provided the materials and Weik did almost all the writing. For this reason, and because so much of what Herndon had to say about Lincoln was not included in the biography, David Donald has
