Becoming Adult Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi, Barbara Schneider, 2008-08-01 How do young people envision their occupational futures? What do teenagers feel about their schooling and after school work, and how do these experiences affect their passage to adult work? These are the questions that psychologist Mihaly Csikszentmihalyi and sociologist Barbara Schneider posed in their five-year study of adolescents. The results provide an unprecedented window on society's future through which we can glimpse how today's youth are preparing themselves for the lives they will lead in the decades to come.

Nature and Therapy Martin Jordan, 2014-09-15 Recent decades have seen an increasing interest in the healing and therapeutic potential of nature and interest in the potential of green care interventions for the benefit of mental health. The field of nature-based therapies is expanding in line with this interest. Nature and Therapy offers a unique contribution by outlining the specific processes involved in conducting counselling and psychotherapy sessions in outdoor natural environments. Central areas covered in the book include: A thorough exploration of the evidence for the psychological and healing potential of natural spaces; Developing a therapeutic rationale for nature-based therapeutic work; Understanding the therapeutic relationship and the unique therapeutic processes that come into play in outdoor natural spaces; Translating indoor therapeutic work to outdoor contexts; The practicalities of setting up and running a therapy session outside of a room environment; Experiential exercises to explore the therapeutic potential of nature. Martin Jordan offers a clear outline of how to set up and hold a therapeutic session outdoors. Using case examples, Nature and Therapy explores both the practicalities and the therapeutic processes that come into play in an outdoor natural setting. The book will be of use to counsellors, psychotherapists, arts therapists, psychologists, and health professionals who are interested in taking their therapeutic work into natural environments and outdoor spaces.

Risks, Dangers, and Rewards in the Nova Scotia Offshore Fishery Marian Binkley, 1995-09-27 According to Labour Canada, workers in the offshore fishery are more likely to be injured than workers in mining, construction, or forestry. Yet until recently, these casualties at sea have been largely ignored by government and labour organizations. Risks, Dangers, and Rewards in the Nova Scotia Offshore Fishery describes the hidden cost paid by workers in the Nova Scotia offshore fishery, a cost measured not in dollars and cents but in deaths and injuries. In this comprehensive study, Marian Binkley documents the level of risk and assesses the general health and stress level of workers in the Nova Scotia offshore fishery. She considers shipboard working environment, stress, accidents, injuries, and general health, safety awareness, job satisfaction, and family life, and the impact on working conditions of government resource policies and companies scientific management strategies Using statistical analysis participant observation surveys and interviews Binkley establishes that factors such as technological developments management changes and home and community life affect the immediate work experience of fishers and can increase the dangers of an already hazardous occupation People-Environment Studies: Promoting Sustainable Places and Behaviors
