Nunnery Tales; or Cruising under False Colours: A Tale of Love and Lust Anonymous, Good news Augustus my mother exclaimed upon reading the message she'd just received from a friend in Dieppe Your father has escaped France in safety We hugged each other overjoyed to know that he'd avoided the inevitable fate which as an aristocrat would have befallen him at the hands of the purging Republicans Then a look of distress crossed her face But until we get news from England to enable us to join him there I hardly know where we can look for refuge I suppose we're guaranteed a temporary home for my younger sister Agatha is Abbess of the convent of St Claire but now there is talk of suppressing convents and priests altogether My other fear pertains to you my dear boy she said wringing her hands Taking refuge and protecting you from danger is one thing but how to smuggle you a young boy of seventeen into a convent full of young nuns is a perfect puzzle to me Nonsense Mother I exclaimed Before the convents are suppressed we ll be in safety in England and as for getting me snugly into the convent we re about the same height and resemble one another so you must dress me up the best way you can and introduce me as your sister or niece or friend or something or other You are impudent for imagining any such idea replied my mother laughing but you forget one thing It will be impossible to deceive my sister Agatha Try anyway I said and if the worst comes to the worst we must let her into our secret and trust to her kindness Your plan is bold if not rash but as I can t think of anything else we ll try it she agreed with some misgivings Let me see she continued in a musing tone I ll present you as the niece of your father s wife but even then Agatha may have her suspicions but we ll risk it She wagged a finger at me Mind you don t look so bold and stride so wide in your walk as you usually do and I ll dress you suitably tomorrow morning I shook my head We don t know what may happen this afternoon or tomorrow morning If we are discovered here we shall never see the Convent of St Claire or any other place of refuge I gathered up my jacket and walked to the door There is plenty of time left today so while I go and hire a coach why don t you lay out suitable apparel for me You are right Auguste or rather Augustine as I must now call you Mother said Go quickly I lost no time in getting a conveyance the driver of which I knew I could depend upon And upon my return in twenty minutes with my mother s assistance I was completely metamorphosed from a handsome youth into a tall bold looking but still not unattractive girl Of course there remained one important physical difference We packed up my mother s jewelry and some of our most valuable attire and prepared for the street We had previously given my mother s chambermaid a holiday When she returned and found us gone the clothes and jewelry missing she would take it for granted that we had either attempted to make our escape to join my father or that we had been arrested and thrown into prison Our plan proceeded without difficulty and before sundown we arrived at the back gate of the convent of St Claire We were most cordially welcomed by my aunt the Lady Abbess of St Claire who however could not help lamenting the necessity which there was for us to take refuge with her I noticed that she stared at me with great curiosity and whispered apart to my mother The answer that she received seemed to be only partly satisfactory She shrugged her shoulders and smiled slightly as she glanced at me I do not doubt your step daughter s discretion but I hope that she will recollect that she is Mademoiselle d Ermonville and will behave as becomes her rank and sex This was addressed to me with very pointed emphasis I remained silent my only reply was a low sweeping curtsey at which feminine performance my mother could not repress her smiles But my dear Henriette commented the Abbess I fear that I must now treat you inhospitably and turn you out of the room I am momentarily in expectation of the arrival of Father Eustace Oh I know him very well indeed replied my mother appearing to me rather confused and there is no necessity for my leaving the room unless you want a very private interview with him Agatha None of your banter replied the Abbess tapping her sister s cheek The Father is coming here on duty Those handsome young monks are always on duty muttered my mother

Just then we were interrupted by a tap at the door After the Abbess gave the necessary permission a tall attractive young nun entered First she made a lowly obeisance to the Mother Superior and then a slighter recognition of my mother and me I have come Holy Mother to receive my punishment she said quietly You have done well to keep your time punctually daughter Emilie replied the Abbess not unkindly It shows some degree of penitence although the degree of the penance must rest to a great extent with Father Eustace Yet I think I can promise that you will not be treated very severely She arched one eyebrow But stripped you will have to be and I think slightly whipped So you had better begin to undress yourself at once in order to save time Will these ladies remain to be spectators of the proceedings asked Emilie alluding to my mother and me It is rather unusual to allow strangers to be present replied the Abbess but as these ladies are my sister and niece I think I may venture to grant them the privilege Certainly I should like it replied my mother I have a great curiosity to see what penance Father Eustace whom I know very well will impose on a fine girl such as sister Emilie What fault has she been committing Oh dear Lady Agatha please don t tell your sister exclaimed Emilie or I will die of shame Nonsense my child replied the Abbess Proceed with your disrobing find a rod and then go and kneel upon the divan in the corner While you are waiting you may repeat one of the penitential psalms to get yourself in the right frame of mind before the arrival of Father Eustace
