The View from Serendip Arthur Charles Clarke, 1977 View from Serendip, 2020 The View from Serendip Arthur C. Clarke, 2011-09-29 Speculations on space science and the sea together with fragments of an Equatorial Autobiography All These Worlds are Yours Jon Willis, 2016-01-01 Where would you look for alien life An astronomer and science popularizer explains the basics of astrobiology to outline five plausible scenarios for finding extraterrestrials Long before space travel was possible the idea of life beyond Earth transfixed humans In this fascinating book astronomer Jon Willis explores the science of astrobiology and the possibility of locating other life in our own galaxy Describing the most recent discoveries by space exploration missions including the Kepler space telescope the Mars Curiosity rover and the New Horizons probe Willis asks readers to imagine and choose among five scenarios for finding life He encourages us to wonder whether life might exist within Mars's subsoil ice He reveals the vital possibilities on the water ice moons Europa and Enceladus He views Saturn's moon Titan through the lens of our own planet's ancient past And he even looks beyond our solar system investigating the top candidates for a second Earth in a myriad of exoplanets and imagining the case of a radio signal arriving from deep space Covering the most up to date research this accessibly written book provides readers with the basic knowledge necessary to decide where they would look for alien life Distant Wanderers Bruce Dorminey, 2013-03-09 Recent discoveries of planet like objects circling other sun like stars have stirred enormous interest in what other planets may exist in the universe and whether they support intelligent life or at least could do so This book will take us into the thick of this search for extrasolar planets Unlike other books it will focus on the people behind the searches many of whom the author knows and the extraordinary technology that is on the drawing boards and currently in use to detect distant wanderers and describe their characteristics thus bringing us to the cutting edge of knowledge of the subject
The author is an experienced award winning science journalist who was technology correspondent for the Financial Times of London and is now working as a journalist in France He has written on many topics in astronomy and astrobiology and has had pieces published in over 35 different newspapers and magazines worldwide Database and Expert Systems Applications Dimitris Karagiannis, 2013-11-11 The Database and Expert Systems Applications DEXA conferences are dedicated to providing an international forum for the presentation of applications in the database and expert systems field for the exchange of ideas and experiences and for defining requirements for the future systems in these fields After the very promising DEXA 90 in Vienna Austria we hope to have successfully established with this year's DEXA 91 a stage where scientists from diverse fields interested in application oriented research can present and discuss their work This year there was a total of more than 250 submitted papers from 28 different countries in all continents Only 98 of the papers could be accepted The collection of papers in these proceedings offers a cross section of the issues facing the area of databases and expert systems i.e. topics of basic research interest on one hand and questions occurring when developing applications on the other Major credit for the success of the conference goes to all of our colleagues who submitted papers for consideration and to those who have organized and chaired the panel sessions Many persons contributed numerous hours to organize this conference The names of most of them will appear on the following pages In particular we wish to thank the Organization Committee Chairmen Johann Gordesch A Min Tjoa and Roland Wagner who also helped establishing the program Special thanks also go to Gabriella Wagner and Anke Ruckert Dimitris Karagiannis General Conference Chairman Contents Conference Committee
