Total Fibre:

The International Jute Commodity System Chhabilendra Roul, 2009 The jute commodity system as prevalent in the Indian subcontinent is a conglomeration of paradoxes Jute was once called the golden fibre on account of its contribution to means of livelihood to millions of farmers traders manufacturers in the unorganized sector mill workers in the organized sector as well scores of people employed in the service sector relating to trading manufacturing and exports of jute and jute goods Jute industry along with textile manufacturing provided the foundation of modern manufacturing industry in India Simultaneously this industry was also the fountain head of the growth of private entrepreneurship and capital in India Most of the traditional Industrial Houses in India grew out of trading and manufacturing of jute and jute goods coal and tea On the other hand most of the farmers involved in cultivation of natural fibres like jute are small and marginal farmers Without alternative avenues of gainful employment elsewhere these millions in South Asia would be deprived of a part of their livelihood The entire commodity chain of natural fibres is characterized by low productivity low value addition high volumes and low returns The advent and discovery of mineral oil helped exploit cheap HDPE and PP polyethylene sacks which started replacing the natural fibre based packaging materials As a result the jute industry got wiped out from Europe America and the Far East Today it is survived in the Indian subcontinent and to a lesser extent in Brazil The unique feature of the volume is that it focuses on the first hand experience of the policy makers and other stakeholders in the jute commodity system who are confronted with a dilemma of reviving a declining economic subsector At this juncture when there is need for a Commodity Development Strategy suitable to the ethos of a commodity like the jute fibre the present volumes attempts to devise such a strategy thorough analysis of the system based on authentic and up to date information The Book furnishes an erudite analysis and stock taking of the jute commodity system This analysis points out to the fact that there is a need for a holistic systemic approach to the problems being faced by this sector focusing on the economic exploitation of the whole jute plant holistic research for addressing productivity and processing efficiency in the entire commodity chain of jute and creating a network of organisations for advocacy for jute and allied fibres which would focus on repositioning the golden fibre as sustainable and eco friendly commodity with the help of green and sustainable development advocacy groups The Commodity Development Strategy highlights the need for greater effort for significant degree of product diversification which would entail significant consumption of the fibre or fabric in volume terms The volume ends with an optimistic note with ideas of inclusive development under the Millennium Development Goals and Carbon Credits Sustainable Development under the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change the welcome paradigm shifts in the approach to the jute sector The effort by Sh Roul is a timely one on the eve of the observance of 2009 as International Year for Natural Fibres by the United Nations The book is quite comprehensive with its focus on a wide range of issues pertaining to the jute agri commodity system addressed against a historical background and from macro economic analytical perspective The volume offers stimulating reading for those interested in the dynamics of agricultural commodity systems like jute and allied fibres The book is expected to help sensitise national governments international organizations and nongovernmental organizations towards the eco sustainability of jute as a natural fibre The book can serve as an excellent reference book for post graduate students in economics jute and textiles management development studies regional development and agriculture and agro marketing

Performance Analysis of ATM Networks Demetres D. Kouvatsos,2013-06-05 Over recent years a considerable amount of effort has been devoted both in industry and academia towards the performance modelling evaluation and prediction of Asynchronous Transfer Mode ATM networks This book describes recent advances in ATM networks reflecting the state of the art technology and research achievements worldwide In addition it provides a fundamental source of reference in the ATM field Research topics discussed in detail include Traffic Modelling and Characterisation Routing Switch and Multiplexer Models Call Admission Control CAC Congestion Control Resource Allocation Quality of Service QoS Tools and Techniques This volume contains recently extended refereed papers of the 5th International Workshop on Performance Modelling and Evaluation of ATM Networks which was sponsored by the International Federation for Information Processing IFIP and held in Ilkley UK in July 1997 Performance Analysis of ATM Networks continues the tradition established by the first three IFIP volumes on the subject and it is ideal for personnel in computer communication industries as well as academic and research staff in computer science and electrical engineering

Bulletin South Carolina. Dept. of Agriculture, Commerce, and Industries,1910 Instruments for Health Surveys in Children and Adolescents Karin Bammann,Lauren Lissner,Iris Pigeot,Wolfgang Ahrens,2018-09-22 This book describes key methods and instruments for assessing diet related factors physical activity social and environmental factors physical characteristics and health related outcomes in children and adolescents These tools were developed and deployed within the framework of the pan European IDEFICS and I Family cohort studies These population based field studies were funded within the 6th and 7th European Framework Programme respectively and were intended to assess the prevalence and aetiology of lifestyle related diseases in children focusing on overweight and obesity and to develop effective strategies for primary prevention In the course of a decade we undertook a major research endeavour collecting standardised data from children families neighbourhoods kindergartens pre schools and schools in eight European countries employing a uniform cross cultural methodology This resulted in a rich picture of the daily lives and living contexts of children and their families Studies encompassing childhood and adolescence face the particular challenge of the transitions from pre school to primary school and from childhood to adolescence accordingly the instruments used need to be adapted to different developmental stages while maintaining their comparability across the age range In young children questionnaires have to be completed by proxies usually their parents while older children particularly adolescents can provide a major part of the requested information themselves This book presents suitable designs methods and instruments for data collection in studies of children and adolescents Each chapter explains the development and background of the instruments applied in the surveys and summarises the current state of knowledge All chapters were written by key experts in their respective research fields We are grateful for their valuable contributions and their enthusiastic support in producing this book which also presents survey experiences in which practice does not always follow theory Participants responses can on occasion be unexpected and unpredictable but meeting these challenges can also enrich epidemiological surveys and yield methodological refinements We sincerely hope that the book and the online material will be of considerable value to other research teams
