University And The Community:

Community Engagement in Higher Education W. James Jacob, Stewart E. Sutin, John C. Weidman, John L. Yeager, 2015-06-17 There seems to be renewed interest in having universities and other higher education institutions engage with their communities at the local national and international levels But what is community engagement Even if this interest is genuine and widespread there are many different concepts of community service outreach and engagement The wide range of activity encompassed by community engagement suggests that a precise definition of the community mission is difficult and organizing and coordinating such activities is a complex task This edited volume includes 18 chapters that explore conceptual understandings of community engagement and higher education reforms and initiatives intended to foster it Contributors provide empirical research findings including several case study examples that respond to the following higher education community engagement issues What is the community and what does it need and expect from higher education institutions Is community engagement a mission of all types of higher education institutions or should it be the mission of specific institutions such as regional or metropolitan universities technical universities community colleges or indigenous institutions while other institutions such as major research universities should concentrate on national and global research agendas and on educating internationally competent researchers and professionals How can a university be global and at the same time locally relevant Is it or should it be left to the institutions to determine the scope and mode of their community engagement or is a state mandate preferable and feasible If community engagement or community service are mandatory what are the consequences of not complying with the mandate How effective are policy mandates and university engagement for regional and local economic development What are the principal features and relationships of regionally engaged universities Is community engagement to be left to faculty members and students who are particularly socially engaged and locally embedded or is it or should it be made mandatory for both faculty and students How can community engagement be better integrated with the other two traditional missions of the university research and teaching Cover image The Towering Four fold Mission of Higher Education by Natalie Jacob University-community Partnerships Tracy Soska, Alice K. Johnson Butterfield, 2005 Examines the roles that social workers have played in the expanding efforts by universities to respond to the social economic educational health civic needs of their local regional communities

Place-Based Community Engagement in Higher Education Erica K. Yamamura, Kent Koth, 2023-07-03 While an increasing number of universities have or are committed to engaging their campuses in their surrounding communities many recognize they lack the strategic focus and resources to maximize and sustain their impact on those communities Place based community engagement provides a powerful way to creatively connect campus and community to foster positive social transformation In developing community engagement strategies most universities and community organizations face significant challenges in deciding who to partner with and why Frequently this leads universities and community organizations to say yes to too many opportunities which significantly limit their ability to pursue long term impact Focusing on an established geographic area can make it much easier to decide where to deploy resources and which partnerships to prioritize and thus increase their ability to form strong and sustainable partnerships that are of greater value to all stakeholders This book presents the emerging model of place based community engagement as a powerful process for attaining more positive and enduring results in their local communities as well as stimulating wider engagement by campus constituencies Drawing upon the concept of collective impact and using data driven decision making place based initiatives build long term partnerships based upon a shared vision Done thoughtfully these place based initiatives have attained impressive results Drawing upon the case studies of five institutions that have implemented place based community engagement initiatives the authors provide guidance on the opportunities challenges and considerations involved in putting a place based approach into effect By sharing the experiences of these five institutions they describe in detail the routes each took to turn their place based initiatives from concept to reality and the results they achieved

Campus Life Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching, 1990 A national study of social conditions on college campuses found that college officials were concerned about alcohol and drug abuse crime breakdown of civility racial tensions sex discrimination and a diminishing commitment to teaching and learning In response to those findings this book proposes that both academic and civic standards be clarified and that the enduring values that undergird a community of learning be precisely defined Six principles are presented that provide a formula for day to day decision making on the campus and define the kind of community every college and university should strive to be 1 a purposeful community 2 an open community 3 a just community 4 a disciplined community 5 a caring community and 6 a celebrative community Appendices present detailed results of the 1989 national survey by the Carnegie Foundation that formed the basis for this report The survey identified campus life issues of concern as perceived by 382 responding institutions in the National Survey of College and University Presidents and 355 responding institutions in the 1989 National Survey of Chief Student Affairs Officers by the American Council on Education and the National Association of Student Personnel Administrators The survey also analyzed views on improving campus life actions likely to improve campus life and changes over 5 years in specific problem areas Reference notes accompany each chapter JDD

Nichols (Ed. Moore,2014-04-29 As the emphasis on economic development through community university engagement intensifies educators and policy makers must learn to think differently about the engagement process This is particularly true when a narrowly defined group of leaders sets the engagement agenda and those who are traditionally underrepresented continue to be marginalized in the conversations about their own futures Emphasizing the importance of community as a context for engagement and building strong relationships over time Moore calls on institutional leaders to intentionally facilitate broad participation by all members of a community in discussions about how and in what direction the community will develop This is the second issue of the 40th volume of the Josse Bass series ASHE Higher Education Report Each monograph is the definitive analysis of a tough higher education issue based on thorough research of pertinent literature and institutional experiences Topics are identified by a national survey Noted practitioners and scholars are then commissioned to write the reports with experts providing critical reviews of each manuscript before publication The University Magazine McGill University,1912 Beyond the Campus Debra Harkins,2013-04-03
