Haunted Halls Elizabeth Tucker, 2009-10-20 Why do so many American college students tell stories about encounters with ghosts In Haunted Halls the first book length interpretive study of college ghostlore Elizabeth Tucker takes the reader back to school to get acquainted with a wide range of college spirits Some of the best known ghosts that she discusses are Emory University's Dooley who can disband classes by shooting professors with his water pistol Mansfield University's Sara who threw herself down a flight of stairs after being rejected by her boyfriend and Huntingdon College's Red Lady who slit her wrists while dressed in a red robe Gettysburg College students have collided with ghosts of soldiers while students at St Mary of the Woods College have reported frightening glimpses of the Faceless Nun Tucker presents campus ghostlore from the mid 1960s to 2006 with special attention to stories told by twenty first century students through e mail and instant messages Her approach combines social psychological and cultural analysis with close attention to students own explanations of the significance of spectral phenomena As metaphors of disorder insanity and school spirit college ghosts convey multiple meanings Their colorful stories warn students about the dangers of overindulgence as well as the pitfalls of potentially horrifying relationships Besides offering insight into students initiation into campus life college ghost stories make important statements about injustices suffered by Native Americans African Americans and others University Ghost Story Nick DiMartino, 2023-05-09 Dr Veronica Glass professor of English literature at UW does not believe in ghosts but she's teaching a course on the Victorian ghost story Guide to Ohio University Ghosts & Legends Craig Tremblay, 2007 This collection of ghost stories and legends focuses on strange events that have occurred around Ohio University and Athens Ohio It is the combination of real history and folklore that have brought these stories to life After reading this book you might just think twice the next time you hear a strange noise in the night Page 4 of cover America'S Most Haunted Campus William Kinnison, 2018-08-16 Ghost stories were very popular with college students at the end of the nineteenth century and the start of the twentieth They still are today As a college president I sometimes told ghost stories to students on Halloween One student wrote The next time that the darkness closes in the wind blows through the trees rustling the crisp dry leaves and the owls come out screeching into the clear and starry night and soaring through the darkness to grab its prey from under the leaves think twice about the spirited haunting that seems to frequent our stately campus As the tales of campus hauntings grew we concluded that our campus surely was Americas most haunted campus I assured the students that these were only stories It was not the ghosts that aroused their fears it was their fears that aroused the ghosts A History of the Modern British Ghost Story S. Hay, 2011-10-27 Ghost stories are always in conversation with novelistic modes with which they are contemporary This book examines examples from Sir Walter Scott Charles Dickens Henry James and Rudyard Kipling amongst others to the end of the twentieth century looking at how they address empire class property history and trauma True Ghost Stories of Alabama Colleges and Universities Debra Glass, 2019-09-13 Hangings hauntings history and

Gothic Travel through Haunted Landscapes Lucie Armitt,Scott Brewster,2022-12-06 This book argues that the process and experience of travel in Gothic literature provides a unique and transformative perspective on the relationship between fear and recurring cultural preoccupations from the late eighteenth century to the present ranging from concerns about climate change or the presence of the unseen to the negotiation of cultural difference and the apprehension produced by various modes of modern transport and unknown unknowable terrain The book follows travellers who take many fictional forms tourists commuters walkers explorers as well as the armchair tourist or reader as they encounter fascinating strange and often disconcerting weathers climates landscapes and topographies Gothic travel epitomises the wonder excitement suspicion or incomprehension that arises from journeys through familiar and unfamiliar terrain While exposure to the wild elemental or primitive could produce the elevation of the sublime in early Gothic increasingly the experience of travel raised unsettling questions about people places and environments that lay beyond established frames of knowledge Gothic travellers are haunted never alone and the experience of journeying through these landscapes provokes fears that may shadow them even after they have returned to home ground

Climates of Fear reveals the persistent ways in which Gothic narratives of travel confront fears about the environment surveillance in migration and the foreign These abiding concerns speak loudly to the present time however when the encroachments on our immediate surroundings from climate change digital communication and geopolitical dislocation seem at once remote and intimate invisible yet urgent Thus the book also asks whether recent portrayals of Gothic journeys now pose different questions to the reader
