Unresolvable Plot Reading Contemporary Fiction:

The Unresolvable Plot Elizabeth Dipple, 2019-10-01 Originally published in 1988 the last few decades had seen the appearance of some brilliant and complex new kinds of fiction The ambitious experiments of writers such as Greene Garcia Marquez Borges Nabokov Calvino Beckett Eco Spark Hoban Murdoch Bellow Ozick and Lessing among others had all proved the vitality of contemporary fiction in discovering exciting new forms and styles Yet because of the difficulty of many of the texts contemporary fiction as a genre had acquired an undeservedly unpopular reputation among students and other readers In a very real way the reader had become nervous rather than confident in the face of a literature that in fact is more aware of and generous to that reader than earlier and more apparently accessible literature ever managed to be And the new fiction's seeming remoteness from the reader is exaggerated in a sense by the critical academic response at the time which tended to obscure the texts themselves behind the many aesthetic and cultural theories which had sprung up in the study of fictionalizing or narrativity in general Elizabeth Dipple is anxious to dispel readers fears about these texts She has chosen an international list of major writers of the time and presents a detailed discussion of each Beginning each chapter with a brief explanation of the context in which each fictionist is to be examined she then concentrates on an analysis of key texts aiming always to look beyond jargon and theory back to the sources themselves Professor Dipple's purpose was to convey to the reader some of her own admiration and enthusiasm for contemporary fiction and to persuade him or her to take a fresh look at a group of writers who were producing what she felt would surely be seen by future generations as among the most sophisticated and accomplished fiction of our time The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater Fran Mason, 2009-07-23 Postmodernist literature embraces a wide range of forms and perspectives including texts that are primarily self reflexive texts that use pastiche burlesque parody intertextuality and hybrid forms to create textual realities that either run in opposition to or in parallel with an external reality fabulations that develop both of these strategies texts that ironize their relationship to reality works that use the aspects already noted to more fully engage with political or cultural realities texts that deal with history as a fiction and texts that elude categorization even within the variety already explored For example in fiction a postmodernist novel might tell a story about a writer struggling with writing only perhaps to find that he is a character in a book by another writer struggling to write a book The A to Z of Postmodernist Literature and Theater examines the different areas of postmodernist literature and the variety of forms that have been produced This is accomplished through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and several hundred cross referenced dictionary entries on individual postmodernist writers the important postmodernist aesthetic practices significant texts produced throughout the history of postmodernist writing and important movements and ideas that have created a variety of literary approaches within the form By placing these concerns within the historical philosophical and cultural contexts of postmodernism this reference explores the frameworks within which postmodernist literature of the late twentieth and early

twenty first century operates

The Narrative Reader Martin McQuillan, 2000 The Narrative Reader aims to provide a comprehensive survey of narrative theories ranging from Plato to Post Structuralism The selection of texts is bold and broad demonstrating the extent to which narrative permeates the entire field of literature and culture It shows the ways in which narrative crosses disciplines continents and theoretical perspectives and is a long overdue and welcome addition to the field The Narrative Reader will fascinate students and researchers alike providing a much needed point of entry to the increasingly complex field of narrative theory

Challenging Theory: Discipline After Deconstruction Catherine Burgass, 2019-01-04 First published in 1999 this volume perceives that English literature is under threat as an academic discipline In Challenging Theory Catherine Burgass warns against the recent trend towards the conflation of literature teaching with cultural studies in British and American universities Focusing on theory of deconstruction as developed by Jacques Derrida in the 1960s the book redresses some common misinterpretations of Derrida's work relating to the status of metaphysical oppositions Part One discusses textual differences and the ways in which these may dissolve and reform according to different cultural contexts The practical issues associated with teaching literature and literary theory in universities are examined in Part Two while Part Three highlights some of the more invidious claims of literary theorists and questions the value of metaphysical analysis as a tool for political critique Challenging Theory tackles an important debate that lies at the heart of humanities teaching It illuminates the impact on academia of the work of critical theorists over the last thirty years and provides a platform for future reassessment of the relationships between literature philosophy and theory

Metafiction Mark Currie, 2014-07-15 Metafiction is one of the most distinctive features of postwar fiction appearing in the work of novelists as varied as Eco Borges Martin Amis and Julian Barnes It comprises two elements firstly cause the increasing interpenetration of professional literary criticism and the practice of writing and secondly effect an emphasis on the playing with styles and forms resulting from an enhanced self consciousness and awareness of the elusiveness of meaning and the limitations of the realist form Dr Currie's volume examines first the two components of metafiction with practical illustrations from the work of such writers as

Derrida and Foucault A final section then provides the view of metafiction as seen by metafictional writers themselves

Convention and the Individual in Medieval English Romance Lucy Brookes,2025-04 Offers a nuanced reading of character and subjectivity in medieval romance via an exploration of its conventions Medieval romances can be characterised by their formulaic motifs predictable plots and stock figures and character types This book offers a fresh perspective on these conventions arguing that authors used them and the expectations they generate as a form of shorthand to interiority Understanding romance conventions in this way reveals that romance characters complex and often contradictory inner lives are made available precisely through the genre s narrative structures shapes and norms Drawing upon recent work in the History of Emotions and Affect Theory the author explores character and subjectivity in a variety of English romance texts from 1100 to 1500 such as Amis and Amiloun Le Bone Florence of Rome The Squire of Low Degree Sir Orfeo Sir Gawain and the Green Knight and Malory s Le Morte Darthur Through new readings of these texts the book demonstrates the contribution made by romance to the growing significance of the individual in fiction after the twelfth century by paying particular attention to the ways in which convention expectation and genre intersect with character formation and the representation of identity

Review of Contemporary Fiction ,1989 Seduction and Death in Muriel Spark's Fiction Phōteinē Apostolou,2001-07-30 Muriel Spark s works often consider the seductive and destructive power of social structures such as religion and education These structures lure Spark s characters with their promise of power But after entering the structure s domain to exploit the mastery it offers the characters are imprisoned by rules and codes Through a postmodern reading of Spark s works such as The Comforters 1957 The Public Image 1968 The Driver s Seat 1970 Reality and Dreams 1996 and Aiding and Abetting 2000 this book analyzes the role of certain social structures in her fiction The volume argues that these attractions and destructions are very much like postmodern critical games with structures that are open to any experimentation but at the same time seem fixed and unchanging Within this postmodern context one is free to play games with signs and systems of rules Spark s characters enter these games in a playful mood and test their limits The texts images and spectacles haunt their victims who are unable to escape the process of attraction and destruction The characters are eventually led to their death literal or metaphoric which will inevitably introduce them to a new beginning

Gordon,1995 Like Jane Austen and Henry James but also like Fyodor Dostoevsky and Simone Weil Iris Murdoch is a keen student of those egoistic obsessions that cloud our moral understanding In Iris Murdoch s Fables of Unselfing David J Gordon probes more deeply and comprehensively than any previous critic the intellectual energies and the ethical imperative of unselfing that inform her fiction Gordon contends that the term fable best describes the kind of novel Murdoch writes because in each a mythmaking purpose interacts with a commitment to realism shaping the erotic life of fictional characters into a spiritual pilgrimage on which they struggle more or less unsuccessfully to overcome the self centeredness that keeps them away from the Good The most original element in the fiction Gordon argues is not its striking modernization of Plato or its adaptations of nineteenth century influences but its intensely creative struggle with Freud In developing his analysis of her themes Gordon draws on Murdoch s work from throughout her forty year career showing how each novel grew out of its predecessors and in what ways each is original Ideas, obsessions, intertexts Yvonne Studer,2000 Challenging Theory Catherine Burgass,1999 The author addresses the influence of poststructuralism on literary studies studies in Britain and America focusing on the theory of deconstruction as developed by Jacques Derrida The book redresses common misinterpretations and assesses arguments for the collapse of disciplinary boundaries The Armchair Detective ,1991 Pynchon Notes ,1990
