

HOW TO START WRITING YOUR LIFE STORY 7 tips

1 CHOOSE YOUR MODE

Will you fictionalize your life or stick to giving real events as truly as you can?

3 SET ASIDE FEAR

Find ways to quell fear of telling a personal or exposing story (e.g. by changing names).

5 LET VOICE RING TRUE

Allow both the parts of yourself that may charm readers and those they may dislike.

7 GET GOOD FEEDBACK

Ask people mentioned if they're willing to read or work 1-on-1 with a writing coach.

2 CONSIDER TIME

Will you start from childhood and tell a linear story or circle back from later events?

4 GATHER KEY EVENTS

Summarize events you want to cover. Write a few lines per main events or scene.

6 AVOID PREENING

Examine your life truly rather than plump it up for the sake of charming your reader.

You Write Your Life Like Fiction:

Minor Re/Visions Morris Young, 2004-03-12 Through a blend of personal narrative cultural and literary analysis and discussions about teaching Minor Re Visions Asian American Literacy Narratives as a Rhetoric of Citizenship shows how people of color use reading and writing to develop and articulate notions of citizenship Morris Young begins with a narration of his own literacy experiences to illustrate the complicated relationship among literacy race and citizenship and to reveal the tensions that exist between competing beliefs and uses of literacy among those who are part of dominant American culture and those who are positioned as minorities Influenced by the literacy narratives of other writers of color Young theorizes an Asian American rhetoric by examining the rhetorical construction of American citizenship in works such as Richard Rodriguez's Hunger for Memory Victor Villanueva's Bootstraps From an American Academic of Color Carlos Bulosan's America Is in the Heart and Maxine Hong Kingston's Song for a Barbarian Reed Pipe from Woman Warrior These narratives Young shows tell stories of transformation through education the acquisition of literacy and cultural assimilation and resistance They also offer an important revision to the American story by inserting the minor and creating a tension amid dominant discourses about literacy race and citizenship Through a consideration of the literacy narratives of Hawai'i Young also provides a context for reading literacy narratives as responses to racism linguistic discrimination and attempts at othering in a particular region As we are faced with dominant discourses that construct race and citizenship in problematic ways and as official institutions become even more powerful and prevalent in silencing minor voices Minor Re Visions reveals the critical need for revising minority and dominant discourses Young's observations and conclusions have important implications for the ways rhetoricians and compositionists read teach and assign literacy narratives
