When Blackness Rhymes with Blackness (Dalkey Archive Scholarly Series) Rowan Ricardo Phillips, 2010-07-20 Lyrical provocative and highly original a groundbreaking book by one of America's smartest young poet critics In When Blackness Rhymes with Blackness Rowan Ricardo Phillips pushes African American poetry to its limits by unraveling our desire to think of African American poetry as African American poetry Phillips reads African American poetry as inherently allegorical and thus a successful shorthand for the survival of a poetry but unsuccessful shorthand for the sustenance of its poems Arguing in favor of the counterintuitive imagination Phillips demonstrates how these poems tend to refuse their logical insertion into a larger vision and instead dwell indefinitely at the crux between poetry and race where when blackness rhymes with blackness it is left for us to determine whether this juxtaposition contains a vital difference or is just mere repetition From When Blackness Rhymes with Blackness Phillis Wheatley like the epigraphs that writers fit into the beginning of their texts is first and foremost a cultural sign a performance It is either in the midst of that performance at a concert or in that performance's retrospection in a cafe that a retrievable form emerges from the work of a poet whose biography casts a far longer shadow than her poems ever have Next to Langston Hughes of all African American poets Wheatley's visual image carries the most weight recognizable to a larger audience by her famed frontispiece her statue in Boston and the drama behind the publication of her book Poems on Various Subjects Religious and Moral All of this will be fruit for discussion in the pages that follow Yet I will also be discussing the proleptic nature with which African American literature talks if you will Phillis Wheatley

Irish Writers in the Civil Service Jonathan Foster, Elliott Mills, 2026-01-05 Tracing the evolution of the figure of the writer cum bureaucrat from the Victorian Irish Civil Service through to the present day this volume examines the scenes of literary art that developed behind counters and desks in bureaucratic Dublin and Belfast as well as the international contexts in which Irish writers found administrative work in the diplomatic sphere Advancing our sense of the shape and dynamics of these environments the volume maps out literary networks spanning both local and central government institutions thus shedding new light on the phenomenon of the literariness of Irish officialdom The volume shows that Irish writers in bureaucratic institutions drew extensively upon their work life experiences in their writing frequently emulating or critiquing bureaucratic writing practices in their literary work Whilst exploring the ways in which employment in state bureaucracies facilitated literary writing the volume also articulates the specific challenges facing Irish writer officials whose freedom of expression was drastically curtailed by their position as state functionaries Examining this complex literary scene of the state functionary across time presents a new window into the workings of the Irish state as processed through the creative imagination of those who knew it best

The Editor Function Abram Foley, 2021-08-31 Offering the everyday tasks of literary editors as inspired sources of postwar literary history Michel Foucault famously theorized the author function in his 1969 essay What Is an Author proposing that the existence of the author limits textual meaning Abram Foley shows a similar critique at work in the labor of several postwar editors who sought to question and undo the corporate editorial industrial complex Marking an end to the powerful trope of the editor as gatekeeper The Editor Function demonstrates how practices of editing and publishing constitute their own kinds of thought calling on us to rethink what we read and how The Editor Function follows avant garde American literary editors and the publishing practices they developed to compete against the postwar corporate consolidation of the publishing industry Foley studies editing and publishing through archival readings and small press and literary journal publishing lists as unique sites for literary inquiry Pairing histories and analyses of well and lesser known figures and publishing formations from Cid Corman's Origin and Nathaniel Mackey's Hambone to Dalkey Archive Press and Semiotext e Foley offers the first in depth engagement with major publishing initiatives in the postwar United States The Editor Function proposes that from the seemingly mundane tasks of these editors routine editorial correspondence line editing list formation emerge visions of new better worlds and new textual and conceptual spaces for collective action

The Complete Novels of Flann O'Brien
Flann O'Brien, 2008-01-08 Flann O'Brien along with Joyce and Beckett is part of the holy trinity of modern Irish literature His five novels collected here in one volume are a monument to his inspired lunacy and gleefully demented genius O'Brien's masterpiece At Swim Two Birds is an exuberant literary send up and one of the funniest novels of the twentieth century The novel's narrator is writing a novel about another man writing a novel in a Celtic knot of interlocking stories The riotous cast of characters includes figures stolen from Gaelic legends along with assorted students fairies ordinary Dubliners and cowboys some of whom try to break free of their author's control and destroy him The narrator of The Third Policeman who has forgotten his name is a student of philosophy who has committed murder and wanders into a surreal hell where he encounters such oddities as the ghost of his victim three policeman who experiment with space and time and his own soul who is named Joe The Poor Mouth a bleakly hilarious portrait of peasants in a village dominated by pigs potatoes and endless rain is a giddy parody aimed at those who would romanticize Gaelic culture A naive young orphan narrates the deadpan farce The Hard Life and The Dalkey Archive is an outrageous satiric fantasy featuring a mad scientist who uses relativity to age his whiskey a policeman who believes men can turn into bicycles and an elderly bar tending James Joyce With a new Introduction by Keith Donohue Dalkey Archive Scholarly Series, 19??
