War in Tim O'Brien's The Things They Carried Gary Wiener, 2011-06-13 This did not happen is a common refrain throughout the stories in The Things They Carried Tim O'Brien's account of the Vietnam War purposely blurs the line between fact and fiction to get closer to the truth of what soldiers actually experienced This compelling volume explores the life of Tim O'Brien and his attempts to wrestle with the trauma and shame of war in The Things They Carried A collection of related essays explore topics such as the moral complexity of war writing as a path to spiritual redemption and the novel's portrayal of gender Contemporary perspectives on war such as the need to help soldiers suffering from PTSD and not repeating the mistakes of Vietnam are also presented

A Study Guide for Tim O'Brien's "Where Have you Gone, Charming Billy?" Gale, Cengage Learning, *Fear and Courage in Tim O'Brien's *If I Die in a Combat Zone, Going After Cacciato, and the Things They Carried James Parks Hughes, 1998 After serving a tour as an infantryman in Vietnam 1969-1970 Tim O'Brien returned to the United States and began a career as a writer He has since published six books and numerous short stories and has distinguished himself as an accomplished author in the process Three of his books If I Die in a Combat Zone 1973 Going After Cacciato 1978 and The Things They Carried 1990 deal specifically with the Vietnam war In these works O'Brien clearly establishes fear as both a dominant aspect of the experience and an essential component necessary for the display of courage one of his most significant considerations He portrays bravery as an individual's ability to perform acts and make decisions despite apprehension and he reveals the difficulty of demonstrating fortitude in the morally ambiguous environment of Vietnam where the horror of death was often secondary to that of cowardice Ultimately however although the arena of armed combat provides a unique setting in which to display human conduct and consciousness the link between courage and fear that O'Brien illustrates is not a war issue but rather a universal one The strength of his writing lies in his ability to depict this intricate relationship in a manner that is relevant to humanity as a whole furthermore his vivid presentation of the Vietnam conflict without anti-war protest or political agenda

Truth and Fiction in Tim O'Brien's "The things they carried" Larissa Pörtl, 2016-09-05 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject American Studies Literature grade 2.7 University of Mannheim Anglistisches Seminar course In Times of Crisis Representations of War in American Literature and Film from the Civil War to Iraq language English abstract In the book The things they carried by Tim O'Brien the narrator says that a good war story is never true He admits that nearly everything in the book is made up after saying that it is true before However the reader learns that not until the 7th chapter in which O'Brien the narrator tells the reader that everything up to now has been invented Similarly he leaves open if some things are true or not Even the narrator who is named like the author himself is made up and has no or little similarity to the author e.g. the author O'Brien does not have a daughter whereas the narrator O'Brien does Reading The things they carried a question keeps coming up again and again Why does he do that Why does Tim O'Brien the narrator constantly tell the reader that everything is made up It does not make any sense The reader just gets confused In addition to this question I found myself wondering if there was a clear difference between truth and fiction in the book namely if you could say this is true and this is untrue and this is certain and this is uncertain And if yes was it O'Brien's intention to draw this clear line or did it just happen by accident Of course one cannot know everything for certain and no one can look into O'Brien's brain but you can make assumptions based on the knowledge you have In my paper I will focus mainly on the aspect why the principle of truth and fiction is used in The things they carried and which effects come out of that I think this is very interesting because in my opinion this is the main aspect of the whole book Someone who reads it will not be able to stop themselves from asking questions in their head The main process while reading is that you just keep asking yourself these questions again and again and you cannot find any answer to them My goal however is not to find any answers but to try to explain this aspect truth and fiction as a whole and to examine what it might contribute to describe the Vietnam war readings of O'Brien's development as a trauma artist and an outspoken chronicler of American involvement in Vietnam Stefania Ciocia highlights O'Brien's compelling preoccupation with the role and the ethical responsibility of the storyteller with his clear privileging of story truth over happening truth in order to make a bold statement about the power of fiction and narrative The Texas Magazine Frank Eberle, Harry Van Denmark, 1911 History of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, 1881 Tim O'Brien's The Things They Carried Harold Bloom, 2011 Presents a collection of critical essays that discuss the
