Unquenchable Black Fires Leedell W. Neyland,1994      Asbestos and Fire Rachel Maines,2013-08-30 For much of the industrial era asbestos was a widely acclaimed benchmark material During its heyday it was manufactured into nearly three thousand different products most of which protected life and property from heat flame and electricity It was used in virtually every industry from hotel keeping to military technology to chemical manufacturing and was integral to building construction from shacks to skyscrapers in every community across the United States Beginning in the mid 1960s however this once popular mineral began a rapid fall from grace as growing attention to the serious health risks associated with it began to overshadow the protections and benefits it provided In this thought provoking and controversial book Rachel Maines challenges the recent vilification of asbestos by providing a historical perspective on Americans changing perceptions about risk She suggests that the very success of asbestos and other fire prevention technologies in containing deadly blazes has led to a sort of historical amnesia about the very risks they were supposed to reduce Asbestos and Fire is not only the most thoroughly researched and balanced look at the history of asbestos it is also an important contribution to a larger debate that considers how the risks of technological solutions should be evaluated As technology offers us ever increasing opportunities to protect and prevent Maines urges that learning to accept and effectively address the unintended consequences of technological innovations is a growing part of our collective responsibility      The Black Star Point of No Return Mario Serroni,2020-08-13 The war between the forces of Good and those of Evil reaches its peak all the worlds are affected all living beings called to take part in it Demons angels gods humagicians goetics no one can draw back from the definitive magical military confrontation Merkenes and Aleka on one side Astris and Ashgarti on the other But what if the reality is not so simple and the boundaries not so clear In an infinite cycle of destruction and creations encounters and clashes death and rebirth love and hate the stories of the protagonists intertwine revealing unexpected bonds      Race Against Time Jack E. Davis,2004-10-01 While many studies of race relations have focused on the black experience Race against Time strives to unravel the emotional and cultural foundations of race in the white mind Jack E Davis combed primary documents in Natchez Mississippi and absorbed the town s oral history to understand white racial attitudes there over the past seven decades a period rich in social change strife and reconciliation What he found in this community that cultivates for profit a romantic view of the Old South challenges conventional assumptions about racial prejudice Davis engagingly and effortlessly weaves between nineteenth and twentieth centuries white observations and black to describe patterns of social interaction in Natchez in the workplace education politics religion and daily life It was not he discovers false notions of biological differences reinforced by class and economic conflict that lay at the heart of the town s racial divide but rather the perception of a black white cultural divergence in values in education work and family White culture was deemed superior a presumption manifested through a hierarchy of old family elite and other white citizens Since 1930

Natchez has developed a major tourist industry downsized sharecropping expanded its manufacturing sector and participated in the struggles for civil rights school desegregation and black political empowerment Yet the collective white perception of a mythic past has continued reinforced through the sum of Natchez s public history social memory school textbooks breathtaking antebellum mansions and world famous Pilgrimage In Race against Time Davis sensitively lays bare the need for shared control of the town s history and the acknowledgment of intercultural dependence to effect true racial equality Building upon the 1941 classic Deep South A Social Anthropological Study of Caste and Class Davis brings tremendous passion and insight to the demanding issue of race as he fathoms the contours of Natchez s distinctive racial dynamics in recent decades

Internal Conflict in Nineteenth-Century Literature Stefan Bolea,2020-10-07 Internal Conflict in Nineteenth century Literature Reading the Jungian Shadow examines the genealogy of the Jungian shadow in Romantic and post Romantic literature Stefan Bolea analyzes the way the crisis of identity in nineteenth century literature prefigures our contemporary inner discord by means of the philosophy of literature combining literary criticism with psychoanalytical phenomenology This book provides a deep analysis of the connection between this inner discord and the century that brought us industrialization nationalism modernity and the unconscious by comparing Jung s theory of the shadow with Nietzsche s and Cioran s versions of Antihumanism in a highly interdisciplinary landscape Scholars of psychology philosophy literature media studies and history will find this book particularly useful
