Sinking Of The Lancastria:

The Lancastria Tragedy Stephen Wynn,2020-09-19 The story behind the sinking of the Lancastria comes in two parts the sinking of the ship itself and the people who died and the aftermath which led to allegations of a government cover up ordered by Winston Churchill There is an officially accepted list of those who died but allegations that hundreds more went down with the ship and have not been accounted for still linger to this very day The Lancastria a pre war Cunard cruise liner was requisitioned by the Admiralty and turned in to a wartime troop ship On 17 June 1940 whilst being used as part of Operation Aerial to evacuate civilian refugees and British military personnel from France it was anchored about 5 miles from the coast of St Nazaire While waiting for a naval escort to see it safely back to England the Lancastria was attacked by enemy aircraft and sank within 20 minutes As no official figures have ever been released there is no way of knowing exactly how many lives were lost Winston Churchill placed what was known as a D Notice on the tragic events thereby restricting the press from reporting it However once a New York newspaper had broken the story the flood gates were opened for British newspapers to follow suit But what was the purpose of the D Notice Was it because the British public had already received too much bad news since the war had begun as Churchill declared Or was it a cover up Those who survived the incident were told in no uncertain terms not to speak about their experience although plenty did With much of the information about the Lancastria s sinking in the public domain within a matter of days the question has to be asked why are official documents in relation to the matter being kept secret until the year 2040

The Sinking of the Lancastria Jonathan Fenby,2005 A fortnight after the evacuation at Dunkirk some 150 000 British troops were still stuck in France As the German advance thundered west these Allied soldiers and airmen were faced with a mad dash to the coast in the hope that a troop ship awaited them there One such vessel was the Lancastria a 16 000 ton liner pressed into service and now anchored off the port of St Nazaire On 17 June 1940 ready to head for home the ship was bombed by the Luftwaffe As she sank between 3 500 and 4 000 of those on board lost their lives Re creating this extraordinary episode with great narrative flair Jonathan Fenby shows us not just the human stories behind the disaster but the cover up that followed as Churchill ordered a blanket ban on news stories for the sake of the country s morale Gripping and moving LANCASTRIA tells one of the great forgotten stories of the Second World War

Britain 1940 Anton Rippon,2020-05-27 On New Year s Day 1940 the people of Britain looked back on the first four months of the Second World War with a sort of puzzled unease Wartime life was nothing like what they had imagined Unlike the First World War there was no fighting on the Western Front Indeed there was no Western Front There had been no major air attacks Four days into the war German bombers had approached the East Coast but no bombs were dropped Everyone carried their gasmask but there was no poison gas Petrol was the only commodity rationed There was no noticeable shortage of food which was as available now as it had been before Hitler invaded Poland Young men called up to join the forces were largely idle They certainly were not fighting the Germans In January 1940 life in wartime Britain was simply an inconvenient version of life in peacetime Even the hitherto strictly enforced blackout regulations were relaxed when it became obvious that because of them people were being killed in road accidents On New Year s Eve 1940 Britain was deep in the throes of war In September the Germans had launched what was to be an eight month bombing campaign that targeted every one of Britain s major cities By the end of 1940 German air raids had killed 15 000 British civilians The so called Phoney War had ended in May when Hitler attacked the Low Countries After Dunkirk with the Luftwaffe poised just across the English Channel and with the very real threat of invasion the Second World War was now anything but phoney

Churchill's Flawed Decisions Stephen Wynn,2020-05-30 Winston Churchill is undoubtedly one of the most respected and best loved characters the nation has ever known However much of how people view him is based on his leadership during the bleak and dire times of the Second World War If it wasn t for him Britain would almost definitely have lost the war there were those in government who encouraged Churchill to strike a deal with Hitler at the time of the Dunkirk evacuations which took place just three weeks after he had been made Prime Minister but he stuck resolutely to his guns and said no However Churchill was never the favorite to take over after Neville Chamberlain resigned Indeed everyone believed Lord Halifax would be the next Prime Minister although even he thankfully recognized that Winston Churchill was the best man for the job even though King George VI disagreed Yet there was another side to Churchill that is not often spoken of and one that led to him making some questionable decisions Some of these it could be argued were for national security reasons but others were not proving that even the very best are not always as perfect as they first appear Maritime Casualties Tuuli Messer-Bookman,2015-08-28 Since the Titanic disaster of 1912 the horrors of major maritime casualties have prompted international conventions and domestic legislation but the link between events and outcomes which are often separated by many years is rarely understood by those working in the maritime industry This book the only comprehensive guide to this link sets forth the major casualties of the last hundred years and explains resulting regulatory changes Taking a macro level view it describes the trends and reactions across decades and how over time focus has shifted from equipment failures to people and their behaviors as the primary cause of maritime casualties Timely and thorough it also explores the alarming increase in the criminalization of maritime accidents especially the relatively recent reclassification of pollution incidents as environmental crimes This book offers broad insight to the history laws and conventions that regulate worldwide commercial maritime activity Remarkable Women of the Second World War Victoria Panton Bacon,2022-06-16 They were told to hold the fort They did far more than that When the Second World War broke out the task of keeping society afloat fell on the shoulders of the women left behind Women the world over stepped into boots they d never worn before becoming engineers labourers and intelligence experts Their houses were razed to the ground they fled their enemy occupied countries and they picked up guns to defend their homes but their stories are rarely told Remarkable Women of the Second World War is a collection of twelve of these stories all carefully gathered and retold by Victoria Panton Bacon These are the stories of Galina

Russian navigator who flew on the front line for the Red Army alongside the feared Night Witches Ena an ATA engineer who didn't think much of the Spitfires and Hurricanes she worked on and Lee a Jewish girl who fled Frankfurt and arrived in Coventry on a Kindertransport train These women weren't remarkable because of high rank or status but because of their grit resilience and determination These are the tales of ordinary women who did extraordinary things Dunkirk Hugh Sebag-Montefiore, 2006 Using new material from British French Belgian German Russian and Czechoslovakian archives and interviews with the last surviving witnesses of the Dunkirk campaign Hugh Sebag Montefiore can at last tell the true story of how the British Army was evacuated from Dunkirk and from France in 1940 BOOK JACKET The Sinking of the Lancastria Jonathan Fenby, 2006-09-20 On June 17 1940 just after the Dunkirk evacuation had supposedly ended in success several thousand of the many British troops still left in France swarmed aboard the five decked cruise liner Lancastria Immediately after they boarded the ship was dive bombed by the German Luftwaffe the 17 000 ton Lancastria sank and hell on earth ensued German fighter planes strafed the oil slick sea setting it ablaze as British troops banded together singing Roll out the Barrel in a courageous attempt to protect any sense of hope that still remained With 4 000 soldiers women and children dead and some estimates as high as 6 000 the disaster would eclipse that of both the Lusitania and the Titanic Although the story was picked up in the United States a few weeks later it was reported only once by any British news outlet and as the war progressed the tragedy eventually vanished from the public record and the collective memory of a nation under siege Author Jonathan Fenby argues that this was the result of a shrewd but necessary kibosh put in place by Winston Churchill in order to preserve British morale Churchill claimed he simply forgot to tell his administration they could report the news The Sinking of the Laconia and the U-Boat War James P. Duffy, 2009-05-14 In early 1942 the Cunard luxury liner Laconia had been converted into a troopship On September 12 1942 she was hit by two torpedoes fired by the German U boat U 156 This title presents the story of the sinking of the British Liner Laconia by the dreaded U Boat 156 a vessel crowded with 1800 Italian POWs and 103 Polish soldiers Great Passenger Ships of the World: 1913-1923 Arnold Kludas, 1975 Shipbuilding & Shipping Record, 1924 United States Naval Institute Proceedings, 2005 [Lancastria. \[On the Sinking of the Lancastria, Off St. Nazaire, June 17th 1940.
