

Doctors

Every night I lie awake
And every day I lie abed
And hear the doctors, Pain and Death,
Conferring at my head,
They speak in scientific tones,
Professional and low-
One argues for a speedy cure,
The other, sure and slow,
To one so humble as myself
It should be matter for some pride
To have such noted fellows here,
Conferring at my side.

The Doctor Poems:

The Doctor Poems Lyn Lifshin, 1990 The Doctor Stories William Carlos Williams, 1984 Not only for students and doctors this volume contains Williams's thirteen doctor stories several of his most famous poems on medical matters and The Practice from The Autobiography The Doctor's Window Ina Russelle Warren, 1997 Sleep Talker Audrey Shafer, 2001-05-14 Audrey Shafer observes the world with a quiet intensity with a reverence for the everydayness of her children's toys the earth outside her window and the sacred trust of her sleeping patients Her poems reflect the seamless back and forth of her woman's life at one moment breathing for her patients in the next choosing socks for her daughter to wear Barking orders I stick the tube in silently curse pray sell my soul for the beat of a hidden heart this doctor mother reminds us all of the fluidity of identity Stunning truly Delese Wear Ph D Editor Journal of Medical Humanities Audrey Shafer's poems demonstrate a unique blend of tenderness and steadiness that makes hers a recognizable and welcome voice among contemporary physician poets Her images are powerful and compelling Consider for example gardenias thick as lust and the gauze choked winter sun Her line is graceful yet disciplined her language imaginative even transcendent yet always grounded in flesh arm artery earlobe and always aware of the scrape of the key in the lock Sleep Talker reveals that the most ordinary moment in life can also be the glory and the answer Jack Coulehan M D Editor Blood and Bone Poems by Physicians Audrey Shafer has in abundant measure all the requirements for the making of fine poems a well tuned eye ear and heart A palpable sense of discovery is everywhere in her poetry unique contemplative joyful and wise John Stone M D poet and essayist Where Water Begins New Poems and Prose In her first book of poems anesthesiologist Audrey Shafer M D boldly weaves her professional and personal worlds These poems some previously published in journals and anthologies provide a glimpse of the daily life including the worries foibles and glories of a working mother The book although divided into three sections contains many poems that interconnect the three themes home work and journeys as a reflection of the impossibility of disconnecting facets of a lived life The first section that I call home invokes the poet's childhood in Philadelphia the death of her father love and succor from family and friends and the fierce and tender joys of motherhood The love poem Home written for her husband is characteristic Shafer the influence of medical and anatomical knowledge on her experience of the fragilities of love and life Many poems however are far from solemn Socks intertwines humor and maternal love and Riff is a self deprecating romp into drumming taken up in midlife The second section not quite sleep delves into the world of the doctor and in particular the anesthesiologist This section may be of greatest interest to those in the fields of medical humanities and pedagogy In poems such as Center Stage and Anesthesia the poet reflects on the nature of anesthesia and the profound gift of trust that her patients offer her The widely anthologized poem Monday Morning describes the intimate early morning hours of a doctor mother The Doctor's Poems Ronald W Pies, 2020-06-17 The Doctor's Window: Poems by the Doctor for the Doctor and about the Doctor Ina Russelle Warren, 2019-03 This work has been selected by
