Theoretical Analyses in Romance Linguistics Christiane Laeuffer, Terrell A. Morgan, 1991-01-01 This nineteenth edition of LSRL proceedings contains a selection of papers on variety of Romance idioms and includes current topics in established areas of study The phonology papers focus mostly on syllabic and higher level prosodic structure The morphology section deals primarily with compounding The syntax contributions principally treat infinitival clauses extraction phenomena and binding While synchronic data serve as the point of departure in most of the studies historical perspectives are also considered in each major section Included in the volume are two invited contributions by Violeta Demonte on linking and case with prepositional verbs and Shana Poplack on variation in the form and function of the subjunctive in Canadian French

New Analyses in Romance Linguistics Dieter Wanner, Douglas A. Kibbee, 1991-03-15 The twenty papers from the eighteenth Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages deal with diverse aspects of the Romance languages and Romance linguistics They reflect the current state of Romance studies in North America and of the particular outlook among the international group of contributors and participants to LSRL 18 The thriving research front accords central importance to formal questions of synchronic analysis The group of seven historical and typological papers amounts to a strong alternative Several papers treat the group of Romance languages not only as a well defined almost exclusive research province but move from Romance phenomena outward to other language types even to genuinely universal dimensions Other contributions maintain a more circumscribed outlook exploiting the typological closeness of the Romance idioms for improved analyses Three invited contributions by Georg Bossong Yves Charles Morin and Maria Luisa Rivero on typological phonological and syntactic questions set the tone for the volume

Theoretical and Experimental Approaches to Romance Linguistics Randall Gess, Edward J. Rubin, 2005-12-08 The 20 papers in this volume are a selection from those presented at the 34th LSRL held in Salt Lake City in 2004 The papers deal with a wide range of theoretical issues in Romance Linguistics and include several from the conference parasession which focused on experimental approaches to problems in Romance Linguistics The book will be of interest to anyone interested in current issues in theoretical Romance Linguistics Contributions of Romance Languages to Current Linguistic Theory Deborah L. Arteaga, 2019-03-18 This volume presents novel analyses of morphosyntax and phonology by well known scholars in their respective fields The book offers chapters on a range of Romance languages and dialects including Canadian French Standard French Modern French Sardinian Sicilian and Spanish Other chapters focus on diachronic topics on French and Italian The volume will be of interest to researchers looking for current research in linguistics on the Romance languages It will also serve as a reference volume or supplemental reading for graduate students and advanced undergraduate students in linguistics Linguistic Theory and Empirical Evidence Bob de Jonge, Yishai Tobin, 2011 This volume further elaborates the empirical tradition of Columbia School CS Linguistics by offering diverse empirical analyses for a wide variety of languages These studies open a much needed debate advocating the necessity of the independent validation of linguistic hypotheses This research exemplifies how such a validation should be conducted by determining which forms underlie the analyses and extracting those observations that are considered to be objective The volume consists of two parts a section on synchronic and diachronic grammatical problems and a section on Phonology as Human Behavior PHB the Columbia School version of phonology applied to evolutionary developmental and clinical issues and the phonotactics of the selected lexicon of a literary text It provides a wealth of useful empirical data and in depth and sophisticated qualitative and quantitative analyses of a broad range of languages from diverse families French Spanish Afrikaans Dutch English Polish Russian Japanese and Hebrew Romance Languages and Linguistic Theory 2013 Enoch O. Aboh, Jeannette C. Schaeffer, Petra Sleeman, 2015-12-15 The Going Romance conferences are a major European annual discussion forum for theoretically relevant research on Romance languages This volume assembles a selection of the papers that were presented at the 27th edition of Going Romance which was organized by the University of Amsterdam in November 2013 The papers present the theoretical analysis of subjects that cover three main themes of interest within current Romance linguistics word order the verb and the DP The range of languages discussed is broad and includes not only standard continental but also non continental Romance languages and not only standard languages but also dialectal variation Furthermore Romance is analyzed not only from a synchronic perspective including acquisition but also from a diachronic point of view Issues and Theory in Romance Linguistics Michael Lee Mazzola, 1994 Selected Papers from the Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages XXIII Linguistic Theory and the Romance Languages John Charles Smith, Martin Maiden, 1995-07-20 This volume contains revised versions of papers given at a conference at the Manoir de Brion in Normandy They deal with phonology morphology syntax and semantics and cover a wide range of Romance languages including many lesser known varieties The contributors to the volume are committed to the view that Romance Linguistics is not narrowly philological but is rather General Linguistics practised with reference to particular data. The point has been made many times but is worth reiterating that Latin and the Romance languages offer an unrivalled wealth of synchronic and historical documentation and provide both a stimulus and a test bed for ideas about language structure, language change and language variation. Many of the papers in this volume can be interpreted simultaneously as using the analytical tools of linguistic theory to illuminate the structure of individual Romance languages or of the family as a whole and as using Romance data to throw light on general problems in linguistic theory or on the structure of languages beyond Romance. Specific areas covered include prosodic domains, quantification, agreement, the prepositional accusative, clitic pronouns, voice and aspect.

Morphological Analysis in Comparison
 Wolfgang U. Dressler, Oskar E. Pfeiffer, Markus A. Pöchtrager, John R. Rennison, 2000-07-15. This volume consists of selected and revised papers from the Seventh International Morphology Meeting held in 1996 in Vienna. It presents advances in morphological theorizing such as the foundations of sign based morphology, the morphology-syntax interface, the boundaries between compounding and derivation, derivation and inflection and the emergence of morphology from premorphological precursors in early first language acquisition. The contributions deal with morphological analyses in various fields of the ever widening domain of morphology and its relevance to the lexicon. The comparative aspect is reflected in the above mentioned areas and through the variety of languages investigated: Indo-European and non-Indo-European languages of Europe and Asian, African and American languages. This breadth allows valuable insights into current problems of morphological research in America, Western and Eastern Europe.

Papers from the XIIth Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages
 Philip Baldi, 1984. This volume contains a selection of papers presented at the XII Linguistic Symposium on Romance Languages (LSRL) held in April 1982 at Penn State University. These papers reflect the general state of the art in Romance Linguistics. Some of the studies are theoretical papers that seek to establish general principles based on the analysis of a Romance language; others apply the principles of a particular theory to the solution of a problem in some Romance language or provide data-oriented descriptions of linguistic phenomena in Romance languages.

Historical Romance Linguistics
 Randall Scott Gess, Deborah Arteaga, 2006-01-01. This volume contains 17 studies on historical Romance linguistics within a variety of current theoretical frameworks; it includes studies on phonology, morphology and syntax focusing solely or comparatively on all five major Romance languages: French, Italian, Portuguese, Romanian and Spanish. An introduction by the eminent Romance Linguist Jürgen Klausenburger addresses the fit of these studies in the overall development of the field of historical Romance linguistics since the 19th century. The studies in this volume demonstrate an organic link between Malkiel's 1961 classic definition of Romance linguistics and the field of Romance linguistics today because just as scholars of the field in the 19th century successfully applied the dominant paradigm of historical linguistics of their time (Neogrammarian theory) so do the authors contained in the present volume avail themselves of current linguistic advances to achieve equally
