Theory/pedagogy/politics Donald E. Morton, Mas'ud Zavarzadeh, 1991 Critical Education Against Global Capitalism Paula Allman, 2001-04-30 In today s vernacular Marx outed capitalism well over a century ago but his explanation has been both ignored and misinterpreted by not only his detractors but also by many socialists and even a considerable number of Marxists as well Today we are experiencing the full impact and suffering the repercussions of capitalism s inherent need to become more than ever before a fully internationalized and integrated system of socio economic control and domination the global system that many commentators have suddenly remembered Marx and Engels 1848 presciently forecasted in the Communist Manifesto When the Berlin Wall fell in 1989 the victory of capitalism and liberal democracy was triumphantly proclaimed The Cold War was over and we were promised a lasting peace But as we enter the third millennium we are facing escalating social divisions injustice and oppression with an environment in varying stages of ecological decay Daily we are bombarded by the schizoid media images of capitalism s extremes on television news the ravaged faces and wasted bodies of some of the thousands suffering famine or the millions living in the world s slums and then the gleaming yet vacuous smile and sumptuously adorned figure of some extravagant wealthy individual who is one of the select members of the global upper class Are we becoming conditioned to accept such contrasts and regard them as normal and inevitable at a time when we have the potential to eliminate scarcity and eradicate human deprivation The author argues that critical education is needed to form a movement capable of challenging and then transforming capitalism She also offers an accessible account of Marx s dialectical critique and expos of capitalism clearly demonstrating the real enemy that should be the focus of anti capitalist and anti globalization struggles This is an account that explains why our main focus should not be on greedy individual capitalists or particular multinational corporations or even their handmaiden institutions such as the World Bank IMF WTO etc but instead the global network of capitalist social relations and consequent habituated human practices in which we are all involved These together with the historically specific form of capitalist wealth are the real enemy the essence of capitalism that must be abolished in order for humanity to have any hope of social and economic justice in the future      Contesting Empire, Globalizing Dissent Norman K. Denzin, Michael D. Giardina, 2015-12-03 Denzin and Giardina have brought together the works of leading cultural critics who have given cultural studies a global framework that meets our need to examine the governing strategies of the military the economy the media and educational elites This is a must read for those who want cultural studies to really matter in the present moment Patricia Ticineto Clough

Contesting Empire Globalizing Dissent Cultural Studies after 9 11 is a landmark text Leading scholars from cultural studies education gender studies and sociology reposition critical cultural studies research around the goals of moral clarity and political intervention Chapters range in focus from neoliberalism and democracy to America s war on kids and the cultural politics of national identity      Renaissance Syntax and Subjectivity John C. Leeds, 2017-03-02 The relationship between Latin and the Scots vernacular in the chronicle literature of 16th century Scotland provides the topic for this study John Leeds here shows how the disposition of grammatical subjects in the radically dissimilar syntactic systems of humanist neo Latin and Scots conditions the way in which the subject i e the human individual and its actions are conceived in the writing of history In doing so he extends the boundaries of existing critical literature on early modern subjectivity to include the subject of grammar analyzing its incorporation into narrative sentences and illuminating the ideological contents of different systems for its deployment Though focused on the chronicles of Renaissance Scotland the argument can in principle be applied to the entire range of Latin vernacular relations during the early modern period While examining the intellectual culture of early modernity Leeds also takes aim at every stage of his argument at the semiotic and social constructionist orthodoxies that dominate the humanities today Against the notion that human subjects are discursive constructs he argues for the subordination of discourse to realities both material and immaterial that are external to language As part of this argument he proposes a view of neo Latin humanism as a resistance to the onset of modernity arguing that Latin prose provides options at once syntactic ideological and ontological that vernacular culture has to its considerable detriment foreclosed In sum Leeds advocates a renewed and theoretically informed commitment to the humanism that the humanities themselves have been at such pains during the last scholarly generation to depreciate      American Literary Studies Michael A. Elliott, Claudia Stokes, 2003 Leading scholars discuss strategies and methodology in American literary studies      Subjects and Citizens Michael Moon, Cathy N. Davidson, 1995-06-15 Focusing on intersecting issues of nation race and gender this volume inaugurates new models for American literary and cultural history Subjects and Citizens reveals the many ways in which a wide range of canonical and non canonical writing contends with the most crucial social political and literary issues of our past and present Defining the landscape of the New American literary history these essays are united by three interrelated concerns ideas of origin where does American literature begin ideas of nation what does American literature mean and ideas of race and gender what does American literature include and exclude and how Work by writers as diverse as Aphra Behn James Fenimore Cooper Edgar Allan Poe Frances Harper Harriet Beecher Stowe Herman Melville William Faulkner Harriet

Jacobs Frederick Douglass Abraham Lincoln Bharati Mukherjee Booker T Washington Mark Twain Kate Chopin Am rico Paredes and Toni Morrison are discussed from several theoretical perspectives using a variety of methodologies Issues of the frontier and the border as well as those of coloniality and postcoloniality are explored In each case these essays emphasize the ideological nature of national identity and more specifically the centrality of race and gender to our concept of nationhood Collected from recent issues of American Literature with three new essays added Subjects and Citizens charts the new directions being taken in American literary studies Contributors Daniel Cooper Alarc n Lori Askeland Stephanie Athey Nancy Bentley Lauren Berlant Michele A Birnbaum Kristin Carter Sanborn Russ Castronovo Joan Dayan Julie Ellison Sander L Gilman Karla F C Holloway Annette Kolodny Barbara Ladd Lora Romero Ram n Sald var Maggie Sale Siobhan Senier Timothy Sweet Maurice Wallace Elizabeth Young

Soundbite Culture David Slayden, Rita Kirk Whillock, 1999 Arguing that social discourse has been subsumed by ritualistic and stylistic performances which overwhelm reasoned thought and reflection the editors have gathered 12 contributions from various disciplines which combine theory and case analysis to explore the decline of discourse Ranging from a discussion of the rock group GWAR to a look at the p

Feminist Theory Joan Nordquist, 1992 Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory Irene Rima Makaryk, 1993-01-01 The last half of the twentieth century has seen the emergence of literary theory as a new discipline As with any body of scholarship various schools of thought exist and sometimes conflict within it I R Makaryk has compiled a welcome guide to the field Accessible and jargon free the Encyclopedia of Contemporary Literary Theory provides lucid concise explanations of myriad approaches to literature that have arisen over the past forty years Some 170 scholars from around the world have contributed their expertise to this volume Their work is organized into three parts In Part I forty evaluative essays examine the historical and cultural context out of which new schools of and approaches to literature arose The essays also discuss the uses and limitations of the various schools and the key issues they address Part II focuses on individual theorists It provides a more detailed picture of the network of scholars not always easily pigeonholed into the categories of Part I This second section analyses the individual achievements as well as the influence of specific scholars and places them in a larger critical context Part III deals with the vocabulary of literary theory It identifies significant complex terms places them in context and explains their origins and use Accessibility is a key feature of the work By avoiding jargon providing mini bibliographies and cross referencing throughout Makaryk has provided an indispensable tool for literary theorists and historians and for all scholars and students of contemporary criticism and culture

Teaching Post-colonialism and Post-colonial Literatures Anne Collett, Lars Jensen, Anna Rutherford, 1997 In this volume an international group of scholars address the multiplicity of issues concerning the presentations to students of post colonial literature This collection focuses upon specific strategies for teaching post colonial literature within particular political environments The contributors offer specific course outlines covering the literature of a number of post colonial regions as well as articles on teaching post colonialism The individual chapters survey the changes and ideas in the discourse of Commonwealth literature since the emergence of this particular field The essays are historical formulating a cohesive sense of past and present
