There Goes The Neighbourhood:

There Goes the Neighborhood William Julius Wilson, Richard P. Taub, 2011-06-15 From one of America's most admired sociologists and urban policy advisers There Goes the Neighborhood is a long-awaited look at how race class and ethnicity influence one of Americans' most personal choices where we choose to live. The result of a three-year study of four working and lower middle class neighborhoods in Chicago, these riveting first-person narratives and the meticulous research which accompanies them reveal honest yet disturbing realities, ones that remind us why the elusive American dream of integrated neighborhoods remains a priority of race relations in our time.

A Just Transition to a Low Carbon Future in South Africa Nqobile Xaba, Saliem Fakir, 2022-02-01 Deliberations on the just transition in South Africa have intensified and will continue to do so for the next few years and decades. Climate change widening socio-economic inequality, the precarious future of work, and emergent approaches to financing arrangements have brought new urgency to the issues. It therefore remains critical to interrogate how South Africa can ensure a just transition to a low carbon economy. This book underlines the fact that the low carbon transition in South Africa has to grapple with complex historical, social, economic, cultural, and political factors. The main message is that the transition to a low carbon society is possible but it can only succeed if it is just and handled collaboratively. In addition, the book aims to broaden the discourse on low carbon transition and explore the opportunities, in and impediments to making the transition fair, affordable, and socio-economically viable.

Insight Turkey 2015 - Spring 2015 (Vol. 17, No. 2), Energy security at the heart of energy policy has become central to the dynamics of international relations. Political turmoil has overwhelmed many oil and gas producing countries, forcing them to adapt their national energy policies according to this continuous change. Specifically because of the wars and instability in the Middle East and the Ukrainian crisis, global energy security is no longer guaranteed. One of the foremost experts on the energy industry, Daniel Yergin, identifies energy security as the availability of sufficient supplies at affordable prices. He also comments that every country interprets the definition of energy security with its own dynamics. In practice, the definition of energy security is polysemic, and the topic of energy security is being explored daily under the lens of numerous new studies by scholars, energy experts, government officials, activists, and journalists.

What to Expect When No One's Expecting Jonathan V. Last, 2014-06-10 Look around you and think for a minute Is America too crowded For years we have been warned about the looming danger of overpopulation people jostling for space on a planet that's busting at the seams and running out of oil and food and land and everything else It's all bunk The population bomb never exploded Instead statistics from around the world make clear that since the 1970s we've been facing exactly the opposite problem people are having too few babies Population growth has been slowing for two generations The world's population will peak and then begin shrinking within the next fifty years In some countries it's already started Japan for instance will be half its current size by the end of the century In Italy there are already more deaths than births every year China's One Child Policy has left that country without enough women to marry its men not enough young people to support the country's elderly and an impending population contraction that has the ruling class terrified And all of this is coming to America too In fact it's already here Middle class Americans have their own informal one child policy these days And an alarming number of upscale professionals don't even go that far they have dogs not kids In fact if it weren't for the wave of immigration we experienced over the last thirty years the United States would be on the verge of shrinking too What happened Everything about modern life from Bugaboo strollers to insane college tuition to government regulations has pushed Americans in a single direction making it harder to have children And making the people who do still want to have children feel like second class citizens What to Expect When No One's Expecting explains why the population implosion happened and how it is remaking culture the economy and politics both at home and around the world Because if America wants to continue to lead the world we need to have more babies

Abundant Earth Eileen Crist,2019-02-08 In Abundant Earth Eileen Crist not only documents the rising tide of biodiversity loss but also lays out the drivers of this wholesale destruction and how we can push past them Looking beyond the familiar litany of causes a large and growing human population rising livestock numbers expanding economies and international trade and spreading infrastructures and incursions upon wildlands she asks the key question if we know human expansionism is to blame for this ecological crisis why are we not taking the needed steps to halt our expansionism Crist argues that to do so would require a two pronged approach Scaling down calls upon us to lower the global human population while working within a human rights framework to deindustrialize food production and to localize economies and contract global trade Pulling back calls upon us to free restore reconnect and rewild vast terrestrial and marine ecosystems However the pervasive worldview of human supremacy the conviction that humans are superior to all other life forms and entitled to use these life forms and their habitats normalizes and promotes humanity s ongoing expansion undermining our ability to enact these linked strategies and preempt the mounting suffering and dislocation of both humans and nonhumans Abundant Earth urges us to confront the reality that humanity will not advance by entrenching its domination over the biosphere On the contrary we will stagnate in the identity of nature colonizer and decline into conflict as we vie for natural resources Instead we must chart another course choosing to live in fellowship within the vibrant ecologies of our wild and domestic cohorts and enfolding human inhabitation within the rich expanse of a biodiverse living planet
