GYATSO,2025-01-08 In the snow capped mountains and windswept plateaus of Tibet a rich tapestry of folk tales has been woven over centuries These stories passed down through generations by word of mouth offer a glimpse into the spiritual cultural and daily life of the Tibetan people This collection Tibetan Folk Tales brings together some of the most fascinating and enchanting stories from the region These tales transport us to a world of wonder magic and profound spiritual insight      Tales of the Golden Corpse Sandra Benson,2006-08-01 Tales of the Golden Corpse is the first complete English version of the famous Tibetan folktales told to a young boy who has killed seven sorcerers in the defense of his Master The boy must redeem himself by carrying a talking corpse full of wondrous tales on a long journey without himself speaking a word These 25 tales of intrigue and magic provide the reader with a window through which to view ancient Tibetan culture Within them you will encounter heroes and villains fearsome witches murderous demons and clever tricksters with a uniquely Tibetan humor Songs riddles jokes and sayings make the stories come alive as they unfold against the background of everyday Tibet its farmers and nomads kings and magical beings      Folk Tales of Tibet Norbu Chophel,2010 Folk Tales occupy an important place in Tibetan literature and often enrich the genre with their flavour and originality But folk tales have remained unwritten and unrecorded As such these fascinating tales have remained stored in memories and were transmitted orally from generation to generation In the process a folk tale undergoes numerous changes both gaining and losing a lot of its flavour They are delightful nevertheless and never cease to surprise us with their store of princesses and witches dogs and demons and frog and mirgos intermingled in an innocently evil world of their own It is only in exile that Tibetans have taken up the important task of recording and documenting the many facets of Tibetan civilisation including the folk tales Translated directly from oral narration into English by a Tibetan the present edition of Tibetan Folk Tales will serve a very significant purpose of introducing readers to the fascinating world of Tibetan folk culture Tibetan Folk Tales A. F. O'Connor, 1893-01-01 A hare was going along a road one day when suddenly on turning a corner he came upon a large Tiger The Tiger at once seized the Hare and said that he was going to eat him Please please Uncle Tiger said the Hare holding up his thumbs in supplication please don't eat me I am only a very small beast and will make a very insufficient meal for a great big animal like you And if you will spare my life I will take you to where you can find a much bigger fatter creature than me for your supper Very well said the Tiger I agree to that But if you don't show me a much bigger animal than you are I shall certainly be obliged to eat you So he released the Hare and the two walked off along the road together As they went along night began to fall and when it was quite dark the Hare began smacking his chops and making sounds as if he was eating something very nice What are you eating Brother Hare asked the Tiger I am eating my eye Uncle Tiger replied the Hare I have taken it out and eaten it it is very nice and it soon grows again The Tiger was rather surprised at hearing this but being very hungry he proceeded to scrape out his own eye and eat it up After going a little further the Hare again began smacking his lips as if he was eating something What are you eating now

Brother Hare asked the Tiger I am eating my other eye Uncle Tiger replied the Hare it is even better than the first The foolish Tiger on hearing this proceeded to scrape out his other eye and eat that The Tiger was now quite blind and the Hare led him along to the brink of a deep gulf where he advised the Tiger to sit down and rest for a while And after the Tiger was seated the Hare said Don t you find it cold Uncle Tiger shall I light you a fire Yes please Brother Hare said the Tiger I think a fire would be very pleasant Folk Tales from Tibet Sir William Frederick Travers O'Connor,1977 Buddha Nature Geshe Sonam Rinchen,2015-01-01 BUDDHA NATURE Do all living beings ultimately become enlightened Do we have Buddha nature the seed of enlightenment These questions concerning an ordinary living being s potential to become a Buddha the purest form of existence are the main topic of this book Based on the views of the three major Buddhist schools of Buddhist philosophy Vaibhasika Cittamatin and Madhyamaka Geshe Sonam Rinchen explains how our minds though stained by temporary defilements are innately pure luminous and cognizant and how we can become aware of the mind s clear light nature Geshe Sonam Rinchen was born in 1933 in the Tehor region of Kham Tibet He began his religious studies at Dhargye Monastery and later entered Sera Je Monastery at Lhasa He continued his studies in India after his escape from Tibet in 1959 and received the Geshe Lharampa degree in 1980 He is at present a resident teacher at the Library of Tibetan Works Archives Dharamsala India where he teaches Buddhist philosophy and practice to international students Ruth Sonam holds an M A degree from Oxford University She has acted as interpreter and translator for Geshe Sonam Rinchen since 1983
