Treasure In Oxford:

Treasure in Oxford David Williams,1988      Treasure in Oxford David Williams,2012-02-02 It s high summer in Oxford The university vacation has just begun The eight governors of the Moneybuckle Endowment architectural library are assembling at All Saints College for the annual dinner before their meeting under chairman Mark Treasure merchant banker The talk at the table is of some pricey sketches said to be by Constable and an offer from a dealer in the town But the talk turns to shock when murder is done in Walton Street with the sketches as the obvious motive The police are quick to make an arrest but Treasure is sure they ve got the wrong suspect even though all other likely culprits are Moneybuckle governors or Moneybuckle s custodian himself Treasure in Oxford marks the twelfth outing for David Williams utterly charming banker turned detective in a cleverly plotted mystery that is sure to delight      The United States Catalog ,1928      A Modern Legal History of Treasure N.M. Dawson,2023-04-06 This book examines treasure law and practice from the rise of the new science of archaeology in the early Victorian period to the present day Drawing on largely unexamined state records and other archives the book covers several legal jurisdictions England and Wales Scotland Ireland pre and post independence and post partition Northern Ireland From the Mold gold cape 1833 to the Brighter hoard 1896 from Sutton Hoo 1939 to the Galloway hoard 2014 the law of treasure trove and the Treasure Act 1996 are considered through the prism of notable archaeological discoveries and from the perspectives of finders landowners archaeologists museum professionals collectors the state and the public Literally and metaphorically treasure law is revealed as a ground breaking chapter in the history of the legal protection of cultural property and cultural heritage in Britain and Ireland      Works John Ruskin,1909      English Herd Book and Register of Pure Bred Jersey Cattle English Jersey Cattle Society,1925      Roman Finds Richard Hingley,Steven Willis,2007-04-10 Studies on finds in Roman Britain and the Western Provinces have come to greater prominence in the literature of recent years The quality of such work has also improved and is now theoretically informed and based on rich data sets Work on finds over the last decade or two has changed our understanding of the Roman era in profound ways and yet despite such encouraging advances and such clear worth there has to date been little in the way of a dedicated forum for the presentation and evaluation of current approaches to the study of material culture The conference at which these papers were initially presented has gone some way to redressing this and these papers bring the very latest studies on Roman finds to a wider audience Twenty papers are here presented covering various themes      The United States Catalog Eleanor E. 37 studies of the adoption of Christianity across northern Europe over 1000 years and the diverse reasons that drove the process In Europe the cross went north and east as the centuries unrolled from the Dingle Peninsula to Estonia and from the Alps to Lapland ranging in time from Roman Britain and Gaul in the third and fourth centuries to the conversion of peoples in the Baltic area a thousand years later These episodes of conversion form the basic narrative here History encourages the belief that the adoption of Christianity was somehow irresistible but specialists show the underside of the process by turning the spotlight from the missionaries who recorded their triumphs to the converted exploring their local situations and motives What were the reactions of the northern peoples to the Christian message Why would they wish to adopt it for the sake of its alliances In what way did they adapt the Christian ethos and infrastructure to suit their own community How did conversion affect the status of farmers of smiths of princes and of women Was society wholly changed or only in marginal matters of devotion and superstition These are the issues discussed here by thirty eight experts from across northern Europe some answers come from astute re readings of the texts alone but most are owed to a combination of history art history and archaeology working together

MARTIN CARVER is Professor of Archaeology University of York Objects in Context, Objects in Use Luke Lavan, Ellen Swift, Toon Putzeys, 2008-03-31 This book promotes the study of material spatiality in late antiquity not just the study of buildings but of the people dress and objects used within them drawing on all available source material It seeks to explore the material world as it was lived in late antiquity in an interpretative inquiry rather than simply describing the evidence that has survived until today The volume presents a series of comprehensive bibliographic essays which provide an overview of relevant literature along with discussions of the nature of the sources of relevant approaches and field methods The main section of the book explores domestic space vessels in context dress shops and workshops religious space and military space Synthetic papers drawing on a wide range of archaeological art historical and textual sources are complemented by case studies of context rich late antique sites in the East Mediterranean and elsewhere including Pella Dura Europos Scythopolis and Sagalassos Good Housekeeping ,1925
