Pinsof, Jay L. Lebow, 2005-09-01 Bringing together the finest minds in family psychology this book provides researchers young scholars and knowledgeable consumers with five mini books or manuals for understanding and conducting family research The five mini books respectively target state of the art research on good marriage depression divorce and remarriage partner violence and families and physical health The Violent Couple William A. Stacey, Lonnie R Hazelwood, Anson Shupe, 1994-04-27 This book offers a social movement perspective on family violence framing the discovery of abuse toward women and men as a natural development flowing out of social movements of the 1960s and 1970s It combines clinical and statistical methods to yield a sophisticated understanding of the dynamics underlying spousal violence. It examines both men's violence and the violence of their female partners both psychological as well as physical. The problem of women's violence is one that has remained largely ignored compared to the mountain of research on men's violence toward women. The authors present the first in-depth examination of how, when, and why women instigate violence and why violent couples require a systems-level intervention program rather than simply trying to counter male violence. There is a strong consideration of factors that can work to reduce or eliminate the problem.

The Impact of Violence on the Family Dean M. Busby, 1996. Providing a comprehensive overview of treatment approaches, this text is divided into two main sections: intrafamilial violence (violence that occurs between family members) and extrafamilial violence (violence that is inflicted on a family member from someone outside the family). In addition to the ecological perspective, several major themes are evident throughout the book: making violence the primary focus of therapy, emphasizing relationships in the healing process, empowering survivors of violence, and focusing on resiliency and strength.

Men and Rape Alan D. Berkowitz, 1994. Men have a responsibility to prevent rape. Research on the causes of campus rape and sexual assault indicate that it is the experience of masculinity itself—how men think of themselves as men—that creates the psychological and cultural environment that leads us to rape and that this environment is perpetuated in men's relationships with and expectations of each other. To be effective, rape prevention work with men must therefore focus on men's experience. This pioneering volume of New Directions for Student Services provides resources for professionals in higher education who want to work with men to reduce the incidence of sexual assault and rape on campus. Extensive guidelines are provided for the development and implementation of a model rape prevention program for men, including student perspectives on facilitating such a program. Student personnel administrators interested in working with men to prevent rape and sexual assault will benefit from the theory, research, treatment models, innovative programming, student perspectives, and resources reviewed in this volume.

Advances in Family Intervention, Assessment and Theory, 1991

Batterer Intervention Kerry Murphy Healey, Kerry Murphy Healy, Chris S. O'Sullivan, 1998

The Military Family James Martin, Leora Rosen, Linette R. Sparacino, 2000-07-30. Today there are more military family members than there are total uniformed service members. Sixty percent of the military are married, including more than eighty percent of all career status personnel, and many have small children. They come from diverse racial and ethnic backgrounds and they represent a wide variety of family types, including single parents, dual-career military couples, and families with eldercare responsibilities. In an effort to cut costs, many of the services utilized by military families are being privatized or outsourced to civilian service providers. This guide is designed to benefit anyone who provides services to these families, particularly those who may have little or no prior knowledge of the unique nature of military families and military family life. This book contains research-based information about the unique needs of military families across various duty-related conditions, as well as within the context of military career demands. Its multi-service focus addresses the provision of human services in both peace and wartime Topics include military spouse employment retirement issues family support during deployments the New Parent Support Program and the experiences of adult children of military parents The authors encourage an understanding of military community based programs and services and they offer the reader numerous resources for collaboration with the military community Families in Society, 2004 Offender Rehabilitation and Treatment James McGuire, 2002-12-13 International in its scope the focus of this study is on effective programmes and policies that prevent recidivism The study reflects the key concerns of researchers theorists and those working with offenders who return to crime Differential Diagnosis and Treatment in Social Work Francis Joseph Turner, 1995 Assessment of Family Violence Robert T. Ammerman, Michel Hersen, 1992-05-28 Almost every clinician at some time faces the challenge of evaluating individuals and families involved in domestic violence This invaluable sourcebook provides the kind of comprehensive understanding of epidemiological models intervention planning and standards of practice that will help practitioners address the causes effects future risks problems and issues that arise in a variety of family violence situations Edited by the expert team responsible for Treatment of Family Violence and written by leading figures in the field Assessment of Family Violence takes stock of over a decade of research and examines the strategies and measures that are vital to the effective assessment of family violence both in terms of treatment planning and legal requirements Assessment of Family Violence provides authoritative coverage of the assessment clinical and legal issues involved in dealing with family violence epidemiology of family violence involving both children and adults types of family violence including child abuse and neglect incest wife battering elder abuse and neglect and psychological abuse of women and special issues in the field including recently recognized areas of maltreatment such as child witnesses of marital violence adolescent perpetrators of incest and adult survivors of incest Rich in descriptive material assessment approach analyses legal considerations case illustrations and invaluable practical guidelines Assessment of Family Violence is an interdisciplinary and cross theoretical treasury for concerned clinicians counselors social workers and legal professionals Canada's Mental Health, 1990 Clinical Psychology in Ireland Alan Carr, 2000

Casebook in Abnormal Psychology Timothy A. Brown, David H. Barlow, 2007 Using cases taken from the authors case files or from case files of other working clinicians this casebook portrays the rich and arresting nature of disorders as they manifest in real people Cases illustrate every major DSM IV category and are followed by a therapy outcome section which gives the rest of the story of what happened to these clients Using an integrative approach the authors emphasize the multiple causes of disorders and incorporate developmental and cultural issues in each case Two complex cases are included without a diagnosis to give students an opportunity to come up with diagnoses on their own This third edition includes a new case on Anorexia Nervosa reflecting the current prevalence of this disorder Publisher's website Introduction to Social Psychology Richard A. Lippa, 1994 Transforming a Rape Culture Emilie Buchwald, Pamela Fletcher, Pamela R. Fletcher, Martha Roth, 1993 Transforming a Rape Culture has provided a new understanding of sexual violence and its origins in this culture This groundbreaking work seeks nothing less than fundamental cultural change the transformation of basic attitudes about power gender race and sexuality Perspectives on Raging Bull Steven G. Kellman, 1994 Winner of the 1980 Academy Award for Best Picture Raging Bull earned mostly scathing denunciations from many of its earliest reviewers Now considered the most celebrated film of the decade Martin Scorsese's portrait of Jake LaMotta continues to elicit strong critical and popular reactions This collection of writings on the film includes an introductory essay surveying the reception of the film and the changing critical response a scene by scene scan of the film a sampling of the most important reviews and articles and essays focusing on such major themes as gender and sexuality language and boxing as metaphor
