

TIMELINE I

History of Nursing

01

Historical Perspectives

Nursing encountered dramatic and wide-reaching change in response to societal needs and influence. Different aspects of events have influenced nursing practice including women's roles, religion, war, and societal attitudes.

02

Women's Role

Traditional female roles have always emphasized caring for and nurturing other members of the family. Nursing could be said to have roots in "the home" for its genuine care for the children and the infants since the beginning of time. Women were usually called to care for others in the community who were ill.

03

Religion

Religion has influenced the development in nursing. "Love thy neighbor as thyself" and Christ's parable of Good Samaritan is a Christian value that has a significant impact on the development of Western Nursing. Religious values have dominated nursing throughout its history.

04

Societal Attitudes

Societal attitudes about nursing during this period are reflected and influenced in the writings and literary portrayals. It greatly influenced the negative image and attitude toward nurses up to contemporary times.
