Fascism: The 'fascist epoch' Roger Griffin,Matthew Feldman,2004 The nature of fascism has been hotly contested by scholars since the term was first coined by Mussolini in 1919 However for the first time since Italian fascism appeared there is now a significant degree of consensus amongst scholars about how to approach the generic term namely as a revolutionary form of ultra nationalism Seen from this perspective all forms of fascism have three common features anticonservatism a myth of ethnic or national renewal and a conception of a nation in crisis This collection includes articles that show this new consensus which is inevitably contested as well as making available material which relates to aspects of fascism independently of any sort of consensus and also covering fascism of the inter and post war periods This is a comprehensive selection of texts reflecting both the extreme multi faceted nature of fascism as a phenomenon and the extraordinary divergence of interpretations of fascism Official Reports of the Debates of the House of Commons of the Dominion of Canada Canada.
