

A close-up photograph of the United States Constitution. The top portion of the document is visible, featuring the iconic opening words "We the People" written in a large, elegant cursive script. Below this, the text continues in a smaller cursive hand, including the phrase "insure domestic Tranquillity, provide for the common Defence, promote the Progress of Science, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America." The background shows a portion of the American flag, with the blue field containing white stars and the red and white stripes. The lighting is warm, highlighting the texture of the parchment paper.

We the People of the United States, in order to form a more perfect Union, to insure domestic Tranquillity, provide for the common Defence, promote the Progress of Science, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to our Posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America.
