Weapons Of Women Writers:

Gender in African Women's Writing Juliana Makuchi Nfah-Abbenyi, 1997-12-22 This is a cogent analysis of the complexities of gender in the work of nine contemporary Anglophone and Francophone novelists offers illuminating interpretations of worthy writers Multicultural Review This book reaffirms Bessie Head's remark that books are a tool in this case a tool that allows readers to understand better the rich lives and the condition of African women Excellent notes and a rich bibliography Choice a college level analysis which will appeal to any interested in African studies and literature The Bookwatch This book applies gender as a category of analysis to the works of nine sub-Saharan women writers Aidoo B Beyala Dangarembga Emecheta Head Liking Tlali and Zanga Tsogo The author appropriates western feminist theories of gender in an African literary context and in the process she finds and names critical theory that is African indigenous self-determining which she then melds with western feminist theory and comes out with an overarching theory that enriches western post-colonial and African critical perspectives The Routledge Companion to Global Women's Writing Ina C. Seethaler, Tripti Pillai, 2025-11-28 Covering both traditional and emerging issues and methodologies The Routledge Companion to Global Women's Writing equips readers with interdisciplinary and intersectional approaches to women's writing in the global context Movements and experiences continuously shaping the twenty-first century clarify the urgent need for expanding and re-envisioning academic and social definitions of gender location and creative expression The Companion forges new directions in and conceptualizations of identity experience and practice of diverse communities across the world The volume provides a conjunctive methodology building on existing scholarly frameworks while encouraging readers to envision new possibilities that enhance future conversations and a multiplicity of voices and perspectives ranging from established authors commentary on key debates to the innovative work of emerging scholars and practitioners Offering diverse critical and creative access to the nexus of women's writing this Companion provides a comprehensive yet accessible introduction for those looking to extend their knowledge of this essential field Women Writing Men Joanne Ella Parsons, Ruth Heholt, 2022-06-08 This book explores how women writers create and question men and masculinity As men have written women so have women written men Debate about how men have represented women in literature has a long and distinguished history however there has been much less examination of the ways in which women writers depict male characters This is clearly a notable absence given the recent rise in interest in the field of 18th and 19th century masculinities Women writers were in a unique position to be able to deconstruct and examine cultural norms from a position away from the centre This enabled women to look askance at masculinity using their female gaze to expose the ruptures and cracks inherent within the rigid formation of the manly ideal This collection focuses on women's representations of men and masculinity as they negotiate issues of class gender race and sexuality Women Writing Men 1689 to 1869 will be of interest to academics researchers and advanced students of Literature Gender Studies Critical Theory and Cultural Studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Women's Writing Arab Women Novelists Joseph T. Zeidan, 1995-03-16 This book assesses the contribution of women to the Arabic novel both in subject matter and form It begins by tracing the struggle over women's rights in the Arab world particularly the gradual improvement in women's access to education the first area in which women made significant gains Subsequent chapters discuss Arab women writers remarkable talents and determination to overcome the barriers of a male dominated culture survey the 1950s and 1960s during which women's writing gained momentum and more women writers emerged and address the shift in emphasis and attitude that women's literature underwent in the late 1960s especially following the 1967 Arab Israeli war when women novelists began to place more stress on international politics Zeidan adapts Western based feminist literary theory to a discussion of Arab women's literature but refrains from imposing that theory inappropriately on literature whose context differs significantly He compares the women's movements in Arab and Western cultures and the development of women's literature in those cultures and uses these comparisons to highlight similarities and differences between them as well as to consider how one affected the other His analysis culminates in the early 1980s the end of the formative years when women's writing had become a familiar part of Arabic literature in general and a positive reflection on the collective Arab consciousness Muslim Women's Writing from across South and Southeast Asia Feroza Jussawalla, Doaa Omran, 2022-07-22 This essential collection examines South and Southeast Asian Muslim women's writing and the ways they navigate cultural political and controversial boundaries Providing a global contemporary collection of essays this volume uses varied methods of analysis and methodology including Contemporary forms of expression such as memoir oral accounts romance novels poetry and social media Inclusion of both recognized and lesser known Muslim authors Division by theme to shed light on geographical and transnational concerns and Regional focus on Afghanistan Pakistan India Bangladesh Sri Lanka Malaysia and Indonesia Muslim Women's Writing from across South and Southeast Asia will deliver crucial scholarship for all readers interested in the varied perspectives and comparisons of Southern Asian writing enabling both students and scholars alike to become better acquainted with the burgeoning field of Muslim women's writing This timely and challenging volume aims to give voice to the creative women who are frequently overlooked and unheard The Living Female Writers of the South Mary T.
