Weapons State Proliferation And The Framing Of Security:

The Weapons State, 1999 Justifying Ballistic Missile Defence Columba Peoples, 2010 Examines the ways in which views of technology have been used in debates over ballistic missile defence An Introduction to War Studies Michael S. Goodman, Rachel Kerr, Matthew Moran, 2024-02-12 Commemorating 60 years of War Studies at King's College London this incisive and adroitly crafted book acts as a comprehensive introduction to the multidisciplinary field of war conflict and security Adopting a global approach it adeptly navigates a broad spectrum of themes and theoretical perspectives which lie at the heart of this important area of study Building Regional Security in the Middle East Emily B. Landau, Tamar Malz, Zeev Maoz, 2004-11-23 Discussions on regional security were initiated in the Middle East in 1992 as part of the Middle East peace process The collapse of the Oslo process and other regional developments in the latter half of the 1990s have diminished hopes that the initial gains made in this direction might further develop as violence has again become the primary mode of effecting political changes in the region On the backdrop of this somewhat dismal current reality in the Middle East the rationale for this volume is that research into regional security structures should nevertheless be pursued When looking at the long term process of creating regional security setbacks are not unlikely The articles that make up this collection focus on the problems that have been encountered and possible directions for getting regional efforts back on track A special issue of the Journal of Strategic Studies Dictionary of International Security Paul Robinson, 2008 This dictionary provides readers with a handy reference guide to the field of international security by including over 200 articles on a wide range of concepts issues treaties and institutions from absolute war to weapons of mass destruction Reconceptualising Arms Control Neil Cooper, David Mutimer, 2014-01-02 The theory and practice of arms control seemed to have its heyday during the height of the Cold War with its focus on the East West conflict and nuclear arms In the past twenty years both arms technologies and various practices aimed at their control have continued to develop but scholarly thinking has not kept up This volume seeks to redress this scholarly neglect of the range of issues associated with the control of the means of violence by asking the question what does arms control mean in the 21st Century In asking this question the volume examines issues surrounding sovereignty geopolitics nuclear disarmament securitization of space technological developments human rights the clearance of landmines the regulation of small arms and the control of the black market for arms and nuclear secrets The book discusses terrorism with reference to the case of the suicide attacks in Beirut in 1983 and how the Obama administration is orientating its posture on nuclear arms This book was published as a special issue of Contemporary Security Policy Challenging nuclearism Marianne Hanson, 2022-05-31 Challenging nuclearism explores how a deliberate normalisation of nuclear weapons has been constructed why it has prevailed in international politics for over seventy years and why it is only now being questioned seriously The book identifies how certain practices have enabled a small group of states to hold vast arsenals of these weapons of mass destruction and how the close control over nuclear decisions by a select group has meant that the humanitarian consequences of nuclear weapons have been disregarded for decades. The recent UN Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons will not bring about quick disarmament. It has been decried by the nuclear weapon states. But by rejecting nuclearism and providing a clear denunciation of nuclear weapons it will challenge nuclear states in a way that has until now not been possible. Challenging nuclearism analyses the origins and repercussions of this pivotal moment in nuclear politics.

Nuclear Proliferation A. M. Babkina, 2002. Since the nuclear genie was let out of the bottle nuclear weapons have been the exclusive domain of a select few countries. At the dawn of the next millennium however the notion that small countries and even a few individuals may acquire and use them or threaten to is a major concern. This annotated bibliography presents citations of the current book and journal literature which deal with this dangerous issue. Access is provided through subject author and titles indexes.

Arms Control in the Middle East Emily B. Landau, 2006. This book focuses on the Middle East arms control process as it unfolded during the years 1992-1995 as part of the multilateral track of the Arab-Israeli peace process initiated in Madrid October 1991.

International Journal, 2005.

Peace Research Abstracts Journal, 2002.

After the War in Iraq Shai Feldman, 2003. Feldman Jaffee Center for Strategic Studies Tel Aviv U Israel presents 14 papers all penned by his colleagues at the Center exploring different ramifications of the war for global regional and Israeli politics. Topics include Israel's ability to win a war with Syria using the same shock and awe tactics of the United States; lessons to be drawn from embedding journalists and the reaction of the Israeli public to the war.

The Treaty Prohibiting Nuclear Weapons Alexander Kmentt, 2021-05-17. This book chronicles the genesis of the negotiations that led to the Treaty on the Prohibition of Nuclear Weapons (TPNW) which challenged the established nuclear order. The work provides readers with an authoritative account of the complex evolution of the Humanitarian Initiative (HI) and the negotiation history of the TPNW. It includes a close analysis of internal strategy documents and communications in the author's possession which trace the tactical and political decisions of a small group of state actors. By demonstrating the unacceptable humanitarian consequences and uncontrollable risks that these weapons pose to everyone's security the HI convinced many states to ban nuclear weapons and reject the policy of nuclear deterrence as unsustainable and illegitimate. As such this book is a case study of multilateral diplomacy and cooperation between state and civil society actors. It also contains a full discussion of both sides of the nuclear argument and assesses the extent to which the HI and the TPNW have moved the dial and present opportunities for transformational change. This book will be of much interest to students of nuclear disarmament, arms control and non-proliferation, diplomacy, global governance and International Relations in general.

Ambiguity, Autonomy, and the Atom Michael Anthony Barletta, 2000.

Political Science Quarterly, 2017. Vols 4, 38, 40, 41 include Record of political events Oct 1, 1888-Dec 31, 1925 issued as a separately paged supplement to no 3 of v 31, 38 and to no 1 of v 40.

Metaphors of Globalization Markus Kornprobst, 2008-01-15. Metaphors of Globalization inquires into the power and politics of metaphors in the making of our globalizing era. The approach is multidisciplinary with case studies in global finance global governance literary theory political theory anthropology and sociology By revisiting globalization through the analysis of metaphors this volume sheds new light on usually overlooked dimensions of global politics improves on many outdated conceptualizations and undertakes a critical analysis of existing approaches to the study of globalization IPRI Journal ,2005 American Book Publishing Record ,2007 Constraining Conventional Proliferation Keith Krause,Canada. Non-Proliferation, Arms Control and Disarmament Division,1996 Examines the issue of conventional arms proliferation from the Canadian perspective with particular emphasis on identifying pragmatic options for action based on Canadian national interests that could contribute to international efforts to constrain conventional arms proliferation Also addresses the strengths and limitations of Canada s ability to contribute to such international efforts Among the issues discussed are the global conventional arms trade Canada s defence production and exports transparency measures such as the United Nations Register of Conventional Arms the relationship of arms spending to human rights as well as social and economic development and post conflict conventional weapons disarmament measures Reviews patterns and consequences of conventional proliferation past and present efforts to constrain conventional proliferation and options for constraining conventional proliferation These options include unilateral measures basic norm building and multilateral opportunities Newsbrief ,1999
