Statutory Instrument Citator, 2002      The Impact of Animal Production in Mountainous Farming Systems Development in Northwest of Vietnam Thi-Thanh-Huyen Nguyen, 2004 This book presents an analysis of the impact of animal production in mountainous farming systems development in Northwest of Vietnam The research areas are located in a typical transect in the mountainous zones This transect represents a gradient from urban to remote areas with changes in production condition livestock types and breeds degree of market orientation feed stuffs and socio economics conditions knowledge and production habit due to different ethnic groups of the families Information used came from interviews in panel survey collected twice over two years The descriptive analysis historical analysis and comparative analysis show that family resources become increasingly scarce along the gradient from the market proximity to remote areas The economic success follows the same trend with increasing remoteness and the farm off farm and family income decrease The study also found a relation between resource availability for crop and livestock and the size of the land The livestock contribution to income is important for the bigger farms with a low production potential as well as for the small farms with high production potential Fluctuations of resource availability and use over two years show that the resources are over used There is increasing utilisation of land in order to increase income while land quality seems to decrease Results of regression models show that a small change in the animal sector impacts greatly the income and living standard of the families offering an opportunity for the development of mixed farming systems and hinting at its high potential for their future development The impact analyses of potential future strategies were made using linear programming models at family level Increasing the capacity of stables in order to increase herd size as well as comprehensive veterinary care could improve income Improving income for families in remote areas is usually very hard to achieve Nutrition Abstracts and Reviews ,1997 Global Ecology and Biogeography Letters ,1998
