The Winged Seed A Remembrance:

The Winged Seed Li-Young Lee, 2013-03-15 It has true spiritual importance for contemporary American literature Edward Hirsch Upon its initial publication acclaimed poet Li Young Lee s memoir The Winged Seed A Remembrance 1995 received an American Book Award from the Before Columbus Foundation In lyrical prose Lee s extraordinary story begins in the 1950s when his parents fled China s political turmoil for Indonesia Along with many other Chinese members of the population his family was persecuted under President Sukarno Falsely accused and charged for crimes against the state his father spent a year and a half in jail as a political prisoner half of that time in a leper colony While his entire family was being transported to a prison colony they escaped and fled to Hong Kong Japan Malaysia and back to Hong Kong where his father rose to prominence as an evangelical preacher Eventually the family sought asylum in the United States in 1962 When the author was six they emigrated to a small town in western Pennsylvania where his father became a Presbyterian minister This reissued edition contains a new foreword by the author and never before seen photos of the family from different stages of their journey Li Young Lee is the author of four critically acclaimed books of poetry that have garnered such awards as the Delmore Schwartz Memorial Award from New York University the 1990 Lamont Poetry Selection the Writer s Award from the Mrs Giles Whiting Foundation and fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts The Lannan Foundation and the John Simon Guggenheim Memorial Foundation

Asian American Autobiographers Guiyou Huang, 2001-05-30 Asian Americans have made many significant contributions to industry science politics and the arts At the same time they have made great sacrifices and endured enormous hardships This reference examines autobiographies and memoirs written by Asian Americans in the twentieth century Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 60 major autobiographers of Asian descent Some of these such as Meena Alexander and Maxine Hong Kingston are known primarily for their writings others such as Daniel K Inouye are known largely for other achievements which they have chronicled in their autobiographies Each entry is written by an expert contributor and provides a reliable account of the autobiographer s life reviews major autobiographical works and themes including fictionalized autobiographies and autobiographical novels presents a meticulously researched account of the critical reception of these works and closes with a bibliography of primary and secondary sources An introductory essay considers the history and development of autobiography in American literature and culture and discusses issues and themes vital to Asian American autobiographies and memoirs such as family diaspora nationhood identity cultural assimilation racial dynamics and the formation of the Asian American literary canon The volume closes with a selected bibliography

Faith in Verse Philipp Reisner, 2025-11-13 Examining the profound influence of biblical themes on contemporary poetry written in English this book explores the work of Brooks Haxton Suji Kwock Kim Kevin Hart and Li Young Lee Going beyond a mere examination of literary works it considers how the presence of biblical references shapes and transforms contemporary Anglo American poetry in unique and compelling ways It argues that these poets engagement with the biblical text transcends spirituality and cultural identity to constitute a form of theology deeply rooted in specific denominational concerns situating the poets in relation to Romantic and Modernist antecedents and addressing the cyclical political and poetic dimensions of their work

Narratives of Diaspora W. Lim, 2013-12-17 Chinese American authors often find it necessary to represent Asian history in their literary works Tracing the development of the literary production of Maxine Hong Kingston Amy Tan Lisa See and Russell Leong among others this book captures the effects of international politics and globalization on Chinese American diasporic consciousness The Missouri Review, 2000

Eating Identities Wenying Xu, 2007-11-13 The French epicure and gastronome Brillat Savarin declared Tell me what you eat and I will tell you who you are Wenying Xu infuses this notion with cultural political energy by extending it to an ethnic group known for its cuisines Asian Americans She begins with the general argument that eating is a means of becoming not simply in the sense of nourishment but more importantly of what we choose to eat what we can afford to eat what we secretly crave but are ashamed to eat in front of others and how we eat Food as the most significant medium of traffic between the inside and outside of our bodies organizes signifies and legitimates our sense of self and distinguishes us from others who practice different foodways Narrowing her scope Xu reveals how cooking eating and food fashion Asian American identities in terms of race ethnicity gender class diaspora and sexuality She provides lucid and informed interpretations of seven Asian American writers John Okada Joy Kogawa Frank Chin Li Young Lee David Wong Louie Mei Ng and Monique Truong and places these identity issues in the fascinating spaces of food hunger consumption appetite desire and orality Asian American literature abounds in culinary metaphors and references but few scholars have made sense of them in a meaningful way Most literary critics perceive alimentary references as narrative strategies or part of the background Xu takes food as the central site of cultural and political struggles waged in the seemingly private domain of desire in the lives of Asian Americans Eating Identities is the first book to link food to a wide range of Asian American concerns such as race and sexuality Unlike most sociological studies which center on empirical analyses of the relationship between food and society it focuses on how food practices influence psychological and ontological formations and thus contributes significantly to the growing field of food studies For students of literature this tantalizing work offers an illuminating lesson on how to read the multivalent meanings of food and eating in literary texts Glencoe Writer's Choice, 2005
