Theater Of His Glory:

The Theater of His Glory Susan Elizabeth Schreiner, 1995 An extensive study of Calvin's theology of the natural order exploring five key themes providence angels the image of God societal life and the redemption of creation With Calvin in the Theater of God John Piper, David Mathis, 2010-09-01 John Calvin saw this world as God's theater where his glory is always on display Just as day and night pour forth speech the universe and history are not silent either they tell the glory of God Reflecting on over 500 years of Calvin's legacy John Piper and this book's other contributors invite us to join Calvin in the theater of God Stemming from the Desiring God 2009 National Conference this volume includes chapters by Julius Kim Douglas Wilson Marvin Olasky Mark Talbot Sam Storms and John Piper It touches on topics such as Calvin's life the Christian meaning of public life sin and suffering the joy of the last resurrection and Jesus Christ as the denouement of God's story Editors John Piper and David Mathis along with the contributors make John Calvin's Christ exalting perspective on the glory of God accessible to today's readers Both Calvinists and other evangelicals interested in the life and work of Calvin will find these essays refreshing and instructive leading to a robust understanding of the world as the theater of God With Calvin in the Theater of God John Piper, David Mathis, Julius Kim, 2010 John Calvin saw this world as God's theater where his glory is always on display Just as day and night pour forth speech the universe and history are not silent either they tell the glory of God Reflecting on over 500 years of Calvin's legacy John Piper and this book's other contributors invite us to join Calvin in the theater of God Stemming from the Desiring God 2009 National Conference this volume includes chapters by Julius Kim Douglas Wilson Marvin Olasky Mark Talbot Sam Storms and John Piper It touches on topics such as Calvin's life the Christian meaning of public life sin and suffering the joy of the last resurrection and Jesus Christ as the denouement of God's story Editors John Piper and David Mathis along with the contributors make John Calvin's Christ exalting perspective on the glory of God accessible to today's readers Both Calvinists and other evangelicals interested in the life and work of Calvin will find these essays refreshing and instructive leading to a robust understanding of the world as the theater of God Heavenly Providence Suk Yu Chan, 2022-08-08 Suk Yu Chan provides a revisit of John Calvin's interpretation of the doctrine of divine providence and builds upon a vast repository of quality research conducted by previous Reformation scholars The author adopts a historical approach to explore Calvin's works from 1534-1559 and argues that from 1534-1541 Calvin used the image of the fountain to portray God as the source of everything who has power to preserve and give life to all creatures on earth Between the Latin edition of the Institutes in 1539 and the French translation of that work in 1541 Calvin was indecisive about the definition of special providence articulating a fitful relationship between providence and soteriology in these two texts In 1552 Calvin gradually ceased using the image of the fountain to portray God as the source of everything and he also delivered three definitions of divine providence general providence special providence and the very presence of God Based on the theological understanding of divine providence which he had developed from 1534-1552 Calvin presented his exegesis on the Book of Job and the Book of Psalms through his sermons and commentaries Furthermore Calvin also discussed the importance of the human role in God's providence While Calvin's theological understanding of God's providence was inherited by his successor Theodore Beza Beza applied it differently in his exegesis on the Book of Job From 1534-1559 Calvin formulated his biblical doctrine of divine providence articulating that divine providence is heavenly providence which is comprised of eternal predestination and divine preservation

The Drama of Preaching Eric B. Watkins, 2017-02-16 Preaching is dramatic Through it we hear the voice of the living God as he speaks to us both through the reading and the preaching of the word of God But where do the hearers of sermons fit into the drama This book suggests ways in which the drama metaphor may help to address age-old questions about the centrality of the gospel and the place of the hearer in preaching As God in Christ is the central character in the biblical drama of redemption he also calls hearers to understand their role in creatively yet faithfully living according to the biblical script Thus no sermon is complete until God's redemptive work is powerfully proclaimed and his people are instructed in how they too are participating in the Missio Dei In this work Hebrews 11 is employed as a means of showing how God not only reveals his redemptive work to his people but also through them As postmodernism sets the stage of contemporary preaching The Drama of Preaching interacts with some of the particular challenges preachers face in engaging postmodern listeners that they might not only be hearers but doers of the preached word

Making Room for the Story to Continue? Ernst M. Conradie, Upon Lumā Vaai, 2026-01-27 This volume is the fourth in a series titled An Earthed Faith Telling the Story amid the Anthropocene The series aims to offer collaborative constructive contributions to understanding the content and significance of the Christian faith from the perspective of Christian ecotheology given the challenges associated with the Anthropocene The focus of this volume is on God's providence The volume addresses the following question How could the suffering of God's creatures in the Anthropocene be reconciled with trust in God's loving care Addressing this question required theological reflection on the classic themes related to the doctrine of providence including creatio continua, conservatio gubernation and concursum The ten contributors were selected in order to optimize a diversity of positions in terms of geographical context confessional traditions and theological schools while also taking considerations of gender race age and language into account The volume captures and extends the current state of the debate in this regard while also indicating emerging horizons in Christian ecotheology

A God Who Cares? Ernst M. Conradie, 2026-01-27 This monograph may be read as a constructive supplement to Volume 4 of the series entitled An Earthed Faith Telling the Story amid the Anthropocene Volume 4 of this series is on the Christian doctrine of providence and is entitled Making Room for the Story to Continue In addition to an extended introduction on the state of the debate in the field this monograph includes three constructive essays on the doctrine of providence employing the traditional Reformed distinction between conservatio gubernatio and concursum as aspects of God's providence as well as a concluding essay provocatively entitled Who Cares a Damn The argument of this contribution may be captured in the following way 1 That God

s providence is best understood in terms of the deeply held Christian conviction that God cares for every creature and not in terms of Greek assumptions around a pervading rational world order 2 That conservatio and gubernatio have found rough secular equivalents in global debates on sustainability mitigation and adaptation in the context of climate change 3 That conservatio and gubernatio are typically in tension with each other when it comes to the question of whether God maintains order in nature and society or whether God transforms unjust orders the call for ecojustice 4 That concursus is not only an implication of conservatio and gubernatio but also captures the heart of the problem posed by the advent of the Anthropocene namely that some humans have become a geological force of nature At the same time God s agency has become sidelined or usurped by the Promethean quest to become divine In each of these essays a highly constructive contribution advances the debate in eco theology by placing providence in the context of the shift from the Holocene to the Anthropocene The method adopted is a constructive argument based on a critical review of the available literature This monograph is scholarly and is addressed to other scholars in eco theology systematic theology and Reformed theology

Exalting Jesus in Ezra-Nehemiah James M. Hamilton, Jr.,2014-06-01 This series affirms that the Bible is a Christ centered book containing a unified story of redemptive history of which Jesus is the hero It s presented as sermons divided into chapters that conclude with a Reflect Discuss section making this series ideal for small group study personal devotion and even sermon preparation It s not academic but rather presents an easy reading practical and friendly commentary The series is projected to be 48 volumes
