Quarterly Index to Periodical Literature, Eastern and Southern Africa Library of Congress. Library of Congress Office, Nairobi, Kenya, 2000

Consuming Glory Gannon Murphy, 2006-09-22 In the late 1990s Open Theism took the theological world by storm Advocated by several prominent theologians among them Clark H Pinnock the view argues that human beings cannot have a genuine relationship with God if God possesses what classical theology has affirmed to be exhaustive foreknowledge of future events Such foreknowledge open theists claim would make human freedom and salvation itself meaningless and divine power akin to little more than meaningless cosmic puppeteering While several works have taken the important step of addressing open theisms scriptural deficiencies in its denial of Gods foreknowledge none have dealt with the vital issue of divine human relationality and how it can be understood in a classical orthodox framework that maintains such foreknowledge

Consuming Glory remedies that lack by first providing a fresh critique of open theism using Clark Pinnock s version of it as representative but then offering a reconstruction of divine human relationality centered on the Biblical principle of Christus in nobis Christ in us Christus in nobis is coupled with an outworking of meticulous divine providence that serves Gods own self glorifying orientation It reverses the relational ordering advocated in open theism by grounding human love of God theologically rather than anthropologically Love of God and divine human relationality is established precisely because it is Gods own self love that is providentially given to us and thus reciprocated as believers are brought into adoptive communion with the Triune Godhead Drawing on diverse resources throughout the corpus of historical theology Murphy concludes that divine human relationality can be summarized as God delighting in himself in us Quarterly Index to Africana Periodical Literature ,2000      Christianity and the Postmodern Turn Myron B.

Penner,2005-07-01 In our post Cold War post colonial post Christian world Western culture is experiencing a dramatic shift

Correspondingly says Myron Penner recent philosophy has taken a postmodern turn in which traditional concepts of reality truth language and knowledge have been radically altered if not discarded Here James K A Smith John Franke Merold

Westphal Kevin Vanhoozer Douglas Geivett and R Scott Smith respond to the question What perils and or promises does the postmodern turn hold for the tasks of Christian thinkers Addressing topics such as the nature of rationality and biblical faith the relationship of language to reality and the impact of postmodern concerns on ethics this book presents a variety of positions in vigorous dialogue with each other      Cyber Worship in Multifaith Perspectives Mohamed Taher,2006-08-17

Cyber Worship in Multifaith Perspectives as is implied by its name explores worship i e Prayer Praise Scripture Sacrament Rituals Confessions Eucharist Rites Pilgrimages Reflection Contemplation etc on the Internet It is not an everything you need to know guide about the subjects of faith and belief religions online religions on the Net or religions in cyberspace Rather it is a book about religious and spiritual experience under the rubric cyber worship which is the variety of ways religious devotion is performed and carried out on the Internet The term Cyber Worship is a catchall phrase which includes variants such as online worship virtual worship electronic prayer cyber puja cyber synagogue and so on Dr Mohamed Taher has thus assembled a quick reference for two groups those communities that are involved in Cyber Worship and business Webs that collaborate in sustaining wired environments As such this book provides an interesting and current perspective on a practice that will continue to grow in the future      National Guide to Funding in Religion ,2003      Interfaith Theology ,2006

Issues and Controversies on File ,2006      Kenyan Periodicals Directory ,2000      The Heart of Christianity

Marcus J. Borg,2004-08-17 World renowned Jesus scholar Marcus J Borg shows how we can live passionately as Christians in today s world by practicing the vital elements of Christian faith For the millions of people who have turned away from many traditional beliefs about God Jesus and the Bible but still long for a relevant nourishing faith Borg shows why the Christian life can remain a transforming relationship with God Emphasizing the critical role of daily practice in living the Christian life he explores how prayer worship Sabbath pilgrimage and more can be experienced as authentically life giving practices Borg reclaims terms and ideas once thought to be the sole province of evangelicals and fundamentalists he shows that terms such as born again have real meaning for all Christians that the Kingdom of God is not a bulwark against secularism but is a means of transforming society into a world that values justice and love and that the Christian life is essentially about opening one's heart to God and to others      Annual Report University of Ghana, 2002      Perspectives on Science and Christian Faith, 2006      Art and Worship Anne Dawtry, Christopher Irvine, 2002 This is a very practical book about the understanding of the role of art works in churches and in worship how they may be commissioned where they should be placed and how to hold art exhibitions It is designed to deepen understanding about how art can enhance worship and to encourage partnerships between the Church and artists Details of relevant organisations and artists networks are included      God at Ground Level Peter Cruchley-Jones, 2008 This book is a collection of essays offering analysis of the experience of contemporary Christianity in the UK from below from the perspectives of real situations and people The authors come from a range of traditions evangelical to liberal to Catholic but all from within the practise and discipline of missiology anthropology

God at Ground Level aims to discern new insights into the contemporary missiological theological and ecclesiological debate of today's church The crisis of contemporary Christianity is certainly recognised for it is experienced deeply by many of the contributors to this project But each contributor also reveals signs of adaptation to the demands laid on contemporary Christianity that challenge the dominant narrative about church decline This gives way to a lively thoughtful and sometimes controversial series of perspectives on God and contemporary church that gives us another route into the debates of Christianity Western culture and Mission
