Fighting Australia's Cold War Peter Dean, Tristan Moss, 2021-11-30 In the first two decades of the Cold War Australia fought in three conflicts and prepared to fight in a possible wider conflagration in Southeast Asia and the Pacific In Korea Malaya and Borneo Australian forces encountered new types of warfare integrated new equipment and ideas and were part of the longest continual overseas deployments in Australia's history Working closely with its allies Australia also trained for a large conventional war in Southeast Asia while a significant percentage of the defence force guarded the Papua New Guinea Indonesian border At home the Defence organisation grappled with new threats and military expansion while the Australian Security Intelligence Organisation defended the nation from domestic and foreign threats This book examines this crucial part of Australia's security history so often overlooked as merely a precursor to the Vietnam War It addresses key questions such as how did Australia achieve its security goals at home and in the region in this new Cold War environment What were the experiences of the services units and individuals serving in Southeast Asia How did this period shape Australia's defence for years to come

China in the Global South Theodor Tudoroiu, Anna Kuteleva, 2022-04-23 This book scrutinizes the frequently ignored agency of Global South sub national actors in their interactions with China using a multidisciplinary approach and eleven case studies Contributors examine China's presence in the Global South on a country by country basis analyzing how various non state and sub state actors are responding to the rise of China and whether they are attracted by the cooperation models that China proposes or deterred by its new assertiveness Contributions cover diverse and heterogeneous geographies of the Global South ranging from Papua New Guinea to Argentina and from Madagascar to the Russian Far East Examining such diverse cases contributors focus on two interrelated questions What is the actual economic political and social impact of China's growing presence in the Global South And critically how do the citizens of the Global South understand and interpret China's rise Taken together the case studies develop a comprehensive picture of a complex and sometimes problematic process of China's inclusion into the economic social and political realities of the Global South This book identifies and fills the gaps in the existing literature on China's rise by offering a nuanced perspective on China's relations with the countries of the Global South that captures such variables as social context intersubjective meanings and identities By focusing China's relations with the Global South it also provides an important addition to the literature on international politics of development and China's role in the transformation of the South South cooperation
