The Works of Washington Irving Washington Irving, 2018-05-02 Excerpt from The Works of Washington Irving Sketch Book Crayon Papers Wolfert's Roost This was disheartening and might have deterred me from any further prosecution Of the matter had the question Of republication in Great Britain rested entirely with me but I apprehended the appearance Of a spurious edition I now thought of Mr Archibald Constable as publisher having been treated by him with much hospitality during a visit to Edin burgh but first I determined to submit my work to Sir Walter then Mr Scott being encouraged to do so by the cordial reception I had experienced from him at Abbotsford a few years previously and by the favorable opinion he had expressed to others Of my earlier writings I accordingly sent him the printed numbers of the Sketch Book in a parcel by coach and at the same time wrote to him hinting that since I had had the pleasure of partaking of his hospitality a reverse had taken place in my affairs which made the successful exercise of my pen all important to me I begged him therefore to look over the literary articles I had forwarded to him and if he thought they would bear European republication to ascertain whether Mr Constable would be inclined to be the publisher The parcel containing my work went by coach to Scott's address in Edinburgh the letter went by mail to his residence in the country By the very first post I received a reply before he had seen my work About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works
