Writing War Aaron William Moore, 2013-06-01 Writing War examines over two hundred diaries and many more letters postcards and memoirs written by Chinese Japanese and American servicemen in the Pacific from 1937 to 1945 As he describes conflicts that have often been overlooked by historians Aaron William Moore reflects on diaries as tools in the construction of modern identity

Writing War, Writing Lives Kate McLoughlin, Lara Feigel, Nancy Martin, 2018-04-19 War affects life writing and lives affect war writing The traditional forms of life writing memoir biography letters diaries buckle under the strain of war War writing has fewer traditional forms but exists at a similar extreme The eight chapters in this book written by leading and up and coming scholars in the field illuminate the creative innovations improvisations and implosions which happen when the demands of writing war and writing lives collide Central to all is the question of authenticity how can wars and lives be known and who can speak of them with authority This volume has a generous chronological and generic range beginning in the early 1800s and stretching to 21st century texts and covering letters diaries fiction fakeries poetry biography testimony songs objects and digital media The mix of authors is similarly varied Thomas Hardy W H Auden and Elizabeth Bowen rub shoulders with Yousif M Qasmiyeh a contemporary Palestinian poet Farah Baker a Gazan teenager and the writers behind the pen names Araki Yasusada and Jiri Kajan This book was originally published as a special issue of Textual Practice

(Re)Writing War in Contemporary Literature and Culture Cristina Pividori, David Owen, 2024-07-09 Re Writing War in Contemporary Literature and Culture Beyond Post Memory is an exploration of war narratives through the lens of postmemory offering a critical re evaluation of how contemporary literature and cultural products reshape our understanding of past conflicts This volume presents a rich tapestry of perspectives drawing from an array of conflicts and incorporating insights from international experts across various disciplines including contemporary literature film studies visual arts and cultural studies It critically builds upon and extends Marianne Hirsch's concept of postmemory engaging with complex themes like the ethical dimensions of war writing the authenticity of representations and the creative power of art in reimagining traumatic events This study not only challenges traditional boundaries in war literature and memory studies but also resonates with contemporary concerns about societal engagement with violent pasts making it a significant addition to scholarly discourse and essential reading for those interested in the intersection of history memory and literature

Writing War in the Twentieth Century Margot Norris, 2000 The twentieth century will be remembered for great innovation in two particular areas art and culture and technological advancement Much of its prodigious technical inventiveness however was pressed into service in the conduct of warfare Why asks Margot Norris did violence and suffering on such an immense scale fail to arouse artistic and cultural expressions powerful enough to prevent the recurrence of these horrors Why was art not more successful through its use of dramatic emotionally charged material its ability to stir imagination and arouse empathy and outrage in producing an alternative to the military logic that legitimizes war Military argument in the twentieth century has been fortified by the authority of the rationalism that we attribute to science Norris argues Warfare is therefore legitimized by powerful discourses that art's own arsenal of styles and genres has limited power to counter Art's difficulty in representing the violent death of entire generations or populations has been particularly acute Choosing works that have become representative of their historically violent moment Norris explores not only their aesthetic strategies and perspectives but also the nature of the power they wield and the ethical engagements they enable or impede She begins by mapping the altered ethical terrain of modern technological warfare with its increasing targeting of civilian populations for destruction She then proceeds historically with chapters on the trench poetry and modernist poetry of World War I Hemingway's A Farewell to Arms and Erich Maria Remarque's All Quiet on the Western Front both the book and the film of Schindler's List the conflicting historical stories of the Manhattan Project a comparison of American and Japanese accounts of Hiroshima Francis Ford Coppola's film Apocalypse Now and the effects of press censorship in the Persian Gulf War By looking at the whole span of the century's writing on war Norris provides a fascinating critique of art's ethical power and limitations along with its participation in as well as protest against the suffering that human beings have brought upon themselves
