Literature, Ethics, and Decolonization in Postwar France Daniel Just, 2015-02-09 Against the background of intellectual and political debates in France during the 1950s and 1960s Daniel Just examines literary narratives and works of literary criticism arguing that these texts are more politically engaged than they may initially appear As writings by Roland Barthes Maurice Blanchot Albert Camus and Marguerite Duras show seemingly disengaged literary principles such as blankness minimalism silence and indeterminateness can be deployed to a number of potent political and ethical ends At the time the main focus of this activism was the escalation of violence in colonial Algeria The poetics formulated by these writers suggests that blankness weakness and withdrawal from action are not symptoms of impotence and political escapism in the face of historical events but deliberate literary strategies aimed to neutralize the drive to dominate others that characterized the colonial project Roland Barthes Mike Gane, Nicholas Gane, 2004 Mould Joan Fontcuberta, 2015 Style Dennis Freeborn, 1996 This new coursebook offers teachers and students a thorough and lively guide to stylistic and critical analysis of a range of texts both literary and non literary classic and contemporary Full of examples and exercises this is an invaluable book for all students of English language and its usage Roland Barthes George Russell Wasserman, 1981 Short Story
