Artificial Cells Thomas Ming Swi Chang, 2007 This is the first book that provides a comprehensive review of the entire area of artificial cells The author a pioneer of the field invented the first artificial cells some 50 years ago and has continued to carry out active research in this field Since then there have been explosive research activities around the world on artificial cells especially in fields related to biotechnology nanomedicine cell therapy blood substitutes drug delivery and others However instead of the term artificial cells many authors use other terminologies such as blood substitutes bioencapsulation liposomes nanoparticles and so on Furthermore papers in this highly interdisciplinary area are published in numerous journals specializing in chemistry medicine surgery bioengineering and others while books in this area are mostly multi authored describing very specific and narrow areas As a result any meaningful literature search for a complete idea of the present status of the whole field of artificial cells is impossible This monograph is written to fill this gap by including all those areas in artificial cells that are disguised under different terminologies Each chapter begins with a detailed overview followed by detailed examples of the author's own research and a full description of his methods and procedures Readers interested in a detailed overview of the whole area can read from cover to cover omitting the methods section at the end of each chapter while those entering this area of research will find the detailed methods and procedures very useful

Homeostatic Blood States Theory Audrius Andrijauskas, 2008-01-31 Intravenous fluid and blood component resuscitation is an integral part of modern medicine practice in a variety of medical fields However these therapies are usually led by rigid and very approximate guidelines The purpose of creating the Homeostatic blood states theory was to develop more accurate guidelines On the basis of the new theory the following results have been reached

- 1 The physiological mathematical model explaining blood volume homeostasis has been created
- 2 Nomograms for infusion therapy measures blood loss evaluation and calculating red blood cell transfusion amount were proposed
- 3 Nomograms were built on the background of interfering relationship of blood hematocrit and hemoglobin concentration
- 4 New guidelines for infusion therapy blood loss evaluation and calculating transfusion amount for proper hematocrit increase were proposed
- 5 New method for early verification of occult bleeding has been suggested

Three major homeostatic blood states were described

- 1 target state
- 2 state of maximal isoosmotic plasma dilution
- 3 dehydration

Target states maintain optimal red cell mass and blood volume correlation Other two maintain critical plasma hydration origin deviations from target state Three new nomograms enable planning and evaluation of infusion therapy and red cell mass transfusion quantitate evaluation of blood loss and early detection of occult bleeding based on the dynamics of blood hematocrit and hemoglobin concentration Manual of Critical Care Nursing - E-Book Marianne Saunorus Baird, Susan Bethel, 2010-11-23 Revised format mirrors a practicing nurse's approach to patient care making it easier to find information Newly formatted care plans incorporate diagnoses interventions and desired outcomes in a consistent logical organization Patient safety alerts and high alerts call attention to issues important to a patient's safety Unique Diagnostic Tests tables highlight the definition purpose and abnormal findings for each test Unique Collaborative Management tables concisely summarize key points while incorporating nationally recognized guidelines Colored tabs mark the location of each body system making topics easier to find Smaller trim size increases portability for use in the unit or bedside while enhancing readability Nanobiotherapeutic Based Blood Substitutes Thomas Ming Swi Chang, Leif Bulow, Johnathan S Jahr, Hiromi Sakai, Chengmin Yang, 2021-10-28 This definitive volume will provide the reader with up to date information and the most recent science of the fast evolving area of nanobiotherapeutic based blood substitutes Long studied there are recent updates that make their use in patients more promising and with one product approved for human use many more in the pipeline These include 2nd generations and even third generation ones the later with enhancement of red blood cell functions In addition there are carefully written and referenced updates on the recent history and products in the field complete with pathophysiologic and pharmacologic studies to validate and verify the efficacy and safety of many of these new products Breast Surgery - E-Book J.
