Studies On The Reformation:

Studies on the Reformation Roland Herbert Bainton, 1963 Studies in the Reformation , 1977 Reformation and Early Modern Europe David M. Whitford, 2007-11-01 Continuing the tradition of historiographic studies this volume provides an update on research in Reformation and early modern Europe Written by expert scholars in the field these eighteen essays explore the fundamental points of Reformation and early modern history in religious studies European regional studies and social and cultural studies Authors review the present state of research in the field new trends key issues scholars are working with and fundamental works in their subject area including the wide range of electronic resources now available to researchers Reformation and Early Modern Europe A Guide to Research is a valuable resource for students and scholars of early modern Europe Ecclesia Reformata Willem Nijenhuis, 1994 The first part of the book deals with Calvin particularly in his relation with Luther The subject of the second part is the development and distinctive nature of the Reformation in the Northern Netherlands In the third part the relation between the Dutch churches and those in England and Scotland are elucidated Calvin and the Reformation Emile Doumergue, August Lang, Herman Bavinck, Benjamin B. Warfield, 2004-01-16 The four studies that make up this book were originally prepared for the Princeton Theological Review in celebration of the 400th anniversary of Calvin s birth The article by Emile Doumergue deals with Calvin s view of asceticism Lang s study analyses Calvin s doctrine of natural law Bavinck s essay discusses Calvin s understanding of common grace Warfield analyses Calvin s teaching on the knowledge of God Studies on the History of the Reformation in Hungary and Transylvania Katalin Péter, 2018-10-01 Katalin Peter offers is a vigorous and stimulating reassessment of the history of the Protestant Reformation in Hungary The Reformation has traditionally been explained in terms of theology the corruption of the church and the roles of princes Katalin Peter shifts the context of study of the Reformation in Hungary to a bottom up examination of the social dynamics of religious change producing a lively narrative of the experiences and reactions of contemporary actors including rural town and village communities local priests and landlords to evangelical ideas Through a close reading of church visitation records common men and women emerge on the pages of the book both as the agents of religious change and as the defenders of the old faith while local priests as Peter had to adapt to lay demands A comparative analysis of the position and actions of landlords as church patrons in all three parts of contemporary Hungary the kingdom under Habsburg rule the Ottoman vassal Principality of Transylvania and Ottoman Hungary leads to the conclusion that patrons did not interfere in local religious change since this change did not interfere with the distribution of power In addition to this radically new narrative of the social dynamics of the early Reformation in Hungary Peter engages in the long standing debates concerning the roles of the Protestant Reformation in intellectual culture and she illuminates the scopes and limits of the confessional cultures that emerged in its wake The book brings together a coherent body of work that began to be published in the 1990s and until now has only been available in Hungarian A People's Tragedy Eamon

Duffy, 2020-11-26 As an authority on the religion of medieval and early modern England Professor Eamon Duffy is preeminent. In his revisionist masterpiece The Stripping of the Altars Duffy opened up new areas of research and entirely fresh perspectives on the origin and progress of the English Reformation. Duffy's focus has always been on the practices and institutions through which ordinary people lived and experienced their religion but which the Protestant reformers abolished as idolatry and superstition. The first part of A People's Tragedy examines the two most important of these institutions: the rise and fall of pilgrimage to the cathedral shrines of England and the destruction of the monasteries under Henry VIII as exemplified by the dissolution of the ancient Anglo-Saxon monastery of Ely. In the title essay of the volume Duffy tells the harrowing story of the Elizabethan regime's savage suppression of the last Catholic rebellion against the Reformation: the Rising of the Northern Earls in 1569. In the second half of the book Duffy considers the changing ways in which the Reformation has been thought and written about: the evolution of Catholic portrayals of Martin Luther from hostile caricature to partial approval; the role of historians of the Reformation in the emergence of English national identity and the improbable story of the twentieth-century revival of Anglican and Catholic pilgrimage to the medieval Marian shrine of Walsingham. Finally, he considers the changing ways in which attitudes to the Reformation have been reflected in fiction, culminating with Hilary Mantel's gripping trilogy on the rise and fall of Henry VIII's political and religious fixer Thomas Cromwell and her controversial portrayal of Cromwell's Catholic opponent and victim Sir Thomas More.

Theology of the Reformers

Timothy George, 2013-09-01 A comprehensive historical and theological overview of five principal figures from the Reformation: Martin Luther, Huldrych Zwingli, John Calvin, Menno Simons, and in this revised and expanded edition, William Tyndale. Studies in the Reformation. William David James Cargill Thompson, 1980. The Johns Hopkins University Studies in Historical and Political Science, 1884. Outline Studies of the Growth of the Kingdom of God. Sidney Lewis Gulick, Edward Leeds Gulick, 1910. Ten Medieval Studies, with Four Appendices. George Gordon Coulton, 1930.

Martin Luther as Prophet, Teacher, and Hero (Texts and Studies in Reformation and Post-Reformation Thought). Robert Kolb, 1999-12-01. A study of Martin Luther's legacy explains how the view of Luther as prophet, teacher, and hero shaped the thought and action of his followers. Studies in History. Smith College, 1920. Church Quarterly Review, 1900.

Calvin and the Reformation. Emile Doumergue, 1909. On the Legacy of Lutheranism in Finland. Kaius Sinnemäki, Anneli Portman, Jouni Tilli, Robert H. Nelson, 2019-12-10. This volume analyses the societal legacy of Lutheranism in Finland in broad terms. It contributes to the recent renewed interest in the history of religion in Finland and the Nordic countries by bringing together researchers in history, political science, economics, social psychology, education, linguistics, media studies, and theology to examine the mutual relationship between Lutheranism and society in Finland. The two main foci are: i) the historical effects of the Reformation and its aftermath on societal structures and on national identity, values, linguistic culture, education, and the economy; and ii) the adaptation of the church and its theology to changes in the geopolitical and sociocultural context Important sub themes include nationalism and religion the secularization and institutionalization of traditional values multiple Protestant ethics and long continuities in history Overall the book argues that large changes in societies cannot be explained via secular factors alone such as economic development or urbanization but that factors pertaining to religion provide substantial explanatory power for understanding societal change and the resulting societal structures Smith College Studies in History ,1920 The Church Quarterly Review Arthur Cayley Headlam,1900 Studies Columbia University. Teachers College. International Institute,1927
