

SOLAR SYSTEM

THE MOON

Fun Facts

Earth's moon is the 5th largest moon (out of 300+) in the solar system.

The craters on the Moon are the result of comet, asteroid, and meteorite impacts.

The Moon is 237,729 miles from Earth.

A lunar eclipse is when Earth comes between the Sun and the moon, blocking sunlight from falling on the Moon.

The Moon is Earth's only natural satellite.

The Moon always shows the same face because Earth and the Moon are in synchronous rotation.

The Moon is 400 times closer to Earth but 400 times smaller than the Sun.

The Moon is about 27% the size of Earth.

illustrations and more than 1 000 pages It stands alone as the definitive work in this field and will serve as a modern messenger of scientific discovery and provide a look into the future of our solar system Forty seven chapters from 75 eminent authors review fundamental topics as well as new models theories and discussions Each entry is detailed and scientifically rigorous yet accessible to undergraduate students and amateur astronomers More than 700 full color digital images and diagrams from current space missions and observatories amplify the chapters Thematic chapters provide up to date coverage including a discussion on the new International Astronomical Union IAU vote on the definition of a planet Information is easily accessible with numerous cross references and a full glossary and index

Solar System : The Moon Om Books Editorial Team,2017

Origin of the Earth and Moon Robin M. Canup, Kevin Righter,2000-11-01 The age old question of how our home planet and its satellite originated has in recent times undergone a minor revolution The emergence of the giant impact theory as the most successful model for the origin of the Moon has been difficult to reconcile with some aspects of the Earth and the development of an integrated model for the origin of the Earth Moon system has been difficult for this reason However recent technical advances in experimental and isotopic work together with intensified interest in the modeling of planetary dynamics have produced a wealth of new results requiring a rethinking of models for the origin of the Earth and Moon This book is intended to serve as a resource for those scientists working closely in this field while at the same time it provides enough balance and depth to offer an introduction for students or technically minded general readers Its thirty chapters address isotopic and chemical constraints on accretion the dynamics of terrestrial planet formation the impact triggered formation of the Earth Moon system differentiation of the Earth and Moon the origin of terrestrial volatiles and conditions on the young Earth and Moon Covering such subjects as the history and origin of the Moon s orbit water on the Earth and the implications of Earth Moon interactions for terrestrial climate and life the book constitutes a state of the art overview of the most recent investigations in the field Although many advances have been made in our ability to evaluate competing models of the formation of the Earth Moon system there are still many gaps in our understanding This book makes great strides toward closing those gaps by highlighting the extensive progress that has been made and pointing toward future research

The New Solar System J. Kelly Beatty, Carolyn Collins Petersen, Andrew Chaikin,1999-01-28 The New Solar System now in its fourth edition is firmly established as the leading text on planetary science and solar system studies A distinguished team of researchers many of the Principal Investigators on NASA missions has carried out a complete revision of the text illustrations and tables The book has been completely redesigned to display hundreds of new images to best advantage and to make the reference data and tables easier to use New to this edition are descriptions of collisions in the solar system full scientific results from Galileo s mission to Jupiter and its moons and the Mars Pathfinder mission Sections on comets the search for other worlds and the search for life take into account the latest discoveries
