 Portuguese and Luso-Asian Legacies in Southeast Asia, 1511-2011, vol. 2 Laura Jarnagin,2003-08-01 e In 1511 a Portuguese expedition under the command of Afonso de Albuquerque arrived on the shores of Malacca taking control of the prosperous Malayan port city after a swift military campaign Portugal a peripheral but then technologically advanced country in southwestern Europe since the latter fifteenth century had been in the process of establishing solid outposts all along Asia

s litoral in order to participate in the most active and profitable maritime trading routes of the day As it turned out the Portuguese presence and influence in the Malayan Peninsula and elsewhere in continental and insular Asia expanded far beyond the sphere of commerce and extended over time well into the twenty first century Five hundred years later a conference held in Singapore brought together a large group of scholars from widely different national academic and disciplinary contexts to analyse and discuss the intricate consequences of Portuguese interactions in Asia over the longue duree The result of these discussions is a stimulating set of case studies that as a rule combine original archival and or field research with innovative historiographical perspectives Luso Asian communities real and imagined and Luso Asian heritage material and symbolic are studied with depth and insight The range of thematic chronological and geographic areas covered in these proceeding is truly remarkable showing not only the extraordinary relevance of revisiting Luso Asian interactions in the longer term but also the surprising dynamism within an area of studies which seemed on the verge of exhaustion After all archives from all over the world from Rio de Janeiro to London from Lisbon to Rome and from Goa to Macao might still hold some secrets on the subject of Luso Asian relations when duly explored by resourceful scholars e Rui M Loureiro Centro de Historia de Alem Mar Lisbon The Economist ,1916 The Review of Reviews William Thomas Stead,1897 The Missionary Herald ,1887 Vols for 1828 1934 contain the Proceedings at large of the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions The Missionary Herald at Home and Abroad ,1887
