Jones,2010-11 THE SILENT SCREAM As an early teenager Sharon moved with her family to a part of the country not far from where she had grown up but culturally it was a million miles away She endured the hardships of not being accepted in school or in the community and then one day she realized that she was a stranger in her own family Sharon tried to reason whether her parents had always been that way or if they had been coerced into accepting a strange way of life They had become treasonous enemies against her very soul Eventually she was forced to change or become a good actor in order to survive to adulthood She felt confused not knowing what to do or where to go she was only sixteen Thinking she would endure a loveless marriage and build a normal life for herself she made mistakes She had no intention of letting the children she bore become a product of that destructive environment she would flee one way or another Later in life thousands of miles away she encountered even greater challenges than she had experienced in the place from which she had escaped Relative power governed the world of her teens A turn to politics showed her another world of falsehoods Greed money and the search for truth ruled her life as an adult There was no winning no life of normalcy until the truth finally set her free Like following a true compass she found her refuge and learned that success is a journey not a destination The Ethics of Embryo Adoption and the Catholic Tradition Sarah-Vaughan Brakman,Darlene Fozard Weaver,2008-04-08 The strength of

Speaking of Abortion Andrea L. Press, Elizabeth R. Cole, 1999 Pro life women from various classes were unified in their rejection of materialist values This group strongly believed that a reduced family income was worth the sacrifice in order to stay home with children Pro life women also shared a general suspicion of the media as a source of information turning instead to their understanding of science to validate their biblically derived worldview Pro choice women's beliefs however were divided along class lines Working class women defended choice because they viewed themselves as a group whose interests are continually threatened by legal authorities In contrast middle class women argued for individual rights and thought abortion necessary for those who aren't financially ready Many middle class pro choice women the authors argue share the same point of view as displayed on television
