Antonietti,Antonella Corradini,Jonathan E. Lowe,2008-09-26 Until quite recently mind body dualism has been regarded with deep suspicion by both philosophers and scientists This has largely been due to the widespread identification of dualism in general with one particular version of it the interactionist substance dualism of R n Descartes This traditional form of dualism has ever since its first formulation in the seventeenth century attracted numerous philosophical objections and is now almost universally rejected in scientific circles as empirically inadequate During the last few years however renewed attention has begun to be paid to the dualistic point of view as a result of increasing discontent with the prevailing materialism and reductionism of contemporary scientific and philosophical thought Awareness has grown that dualism need not be restricted to its traditional form and that other varieties of dualism are not subject to the difficulties commonly raised against Descartes own version of it Interest in these alternative versions of dualism is growing fast today because it seems that they are capable of capturing deep seated philosophical intuitions while also being fully consistent with the methodological assumptions and empirical findings of modern scientific work on the human mind and brain The object of this book is to provide philosophers scientists their students and the wider general public with an up to date overview of current developments in dualistic conceptions of the mind in contemporary philosophy and science Class Room Libraries for Public Schools Buffalo Public philosophical history there has been a recurring argument to the effect that determinism naturalism or both are self referentially incoherent By accepting determinism or naturalism one allegedly acquires a reason to reject determinism or naturalism The Epistemological Skyhook brings together for the first time the principal expressions of this argument focusing primarily on the last 150 years This book addresses the versions of this argument as presented by Arthur Lovejoy A E Taylor Kurt G del C S Lewis Norman Malcolm Karl Popper J R Lucas William Hasker Thomas Nagel Alvin Plantinga and others along with the objections presented by their many detractors It concludes by presenting a new version of the argument that synthesizes the best aspects of the others while also rendering the argument immune to some of the most significant objections made to it
