Washington,1973 Three Negro Classics: Up from Slavery John Hope,1965 The African American Church Community in Rochester, New York, 1900-1940 Ingrid Overacker,1998 This work examines the connections between the faith foundations of members of the African American church community in Rochester New York and the work the community engaged in to nurture and protect its members during the first four decades of the twentieth century The book concentrates on four local churches Memorial AME Zion Mt Olivet Baptist Trinity Presbyterian and St Simon s Episcopal and explains how each addressed the human service educational economic and political needs of African Americans in Rochester the book highlights the role of women in the church community and relies heavily on interviews with members of the respective churches This analysis of Rochester s church community challenges the perception of the African American church as accommodationist and other worldly during this critical time in the formation of the African American community both locally and nationally Race and Mixed Race Naomi Zack,1993 In the first philosophical challenge to accepted racial classifications in the United States Naomi Zack uses philosophical methods to criticize their logic Tracing social and historical problems related to racial identity she discusses why race is a matter of such importance in America and examines the treatment of mixed race in law society and literature Zack argues that black and white designations are themselves racist because the concept of race does not have an adequate scientific foundation The one drop rule originally a rationalization for slavery persists today even though there have never been pure races and most American blacks have white genes Exploring the existential problems of mixed race identity she points out how the bi racial system in this country generates a special racial alienation for many Americans Ironically suggesting that we include gray in our racial vocabulary Zack concludes that any racial identity is an expression of bad faith Author note Naomi Zack is Assistant Professor in the Department of Philosophy at the State University of New York at Albany She herself is of mixed race Jewish African American and Native American

Autobiography of an Ex-white Man Robert Paul Wolff,2005 Autobiography of an Ex White Man is an intensely personal meditation on the nature of America by a White Philosopher who joined a Black Studies Department and found his understanding of the world transformed by the experience The book begins with an autobiographical narrative of the events leading up to Wolff s transfer from a Philosophy Department to the W E B Du Bois Department of Afro American Studies at the University of Massachusetts and his experiences in the Department with his new colleagues all of whom had come to Academia from the Civil Rights Movement of the 1960s Wolff discovered that the apparently simple act of moving across campus to a new Department in a new building worked a startling change in the way he saw himself his university and his country Reading as widely as possible to bring himself up to speed in his new field of academic responsibility Wolff realized after a bit that his picture of American history and culture was undergoing an irreversible metamorphosis America he realized has from its inception been a land both of Freedom and of Bondage Freedom for the few and then for those who are White Bondage at first for the many and then for those who are not White Slavery is thus not an aberration an accident a Peculiar Institution it is the essence and core of the American experience Wolff s optimistic outlook leads him to express the hope that our acknowledging the realities of America s racial history and present will begin to tear down the formidable barrier to change He sees this refashioning of the American story as a first step toward the crafting of a truly liberatory project Robert Paul Wolff is Professor of Afro American Studies at the University of Massachusetts Amherst and the author of numerous books including Introductory Philosophy and In Defense of Anarchism

The Quest for Community and Identity Robert E. Birt, 2002 This collection of essays engages two of the most fundamental social and political issues of our time community and identity Wrestling with the perplexities of these two issues within the Africana world the contributors delve into the influences of a postmodern world of globalization with outdated crumbling forms of identity and sociality In the wake of such an order new forms of identity and community must be established Birt has collected an informed group of contributors here who lay the foundation for a new approach to finding community and identity in the Africana world
