One such initiative is the Khanyisa Programme in rural KwaZulu Natal South Africa which utilises the concept of Ubuntu as a lens through which to explore subjects such as masculinity inequality gender violence and HIV AIDS. Focusing through transformative learning theory this book explores how socio-cultural processes construct societal patterns of masculine domination and related individual masculine identities and examines the use of gender transformative programmes towards the reconstruction of new more equitable gender identities. A Khanyisa Programme resource pack is included for facilitators. Gender Identities in a Globalized World Ana Marta Gonzalez, Victor J. This book highlights a variety of methodological approaches that reveal the complex and multifaceted construction of masculinity in biblical and post-biblical literature. It focuses uniquely and explicitly on men and the world they inhabit documenting changes in the type of men and masculinities deemed legitimate or illegitimate across various social and historical contexts of the ancient Near East. At the same time it interrogates readers' assumptions about the writers' positioning of male bodies sexuality and relationships in a gender order created to reflect men's interests yet in need of constant reordering. In this volume specific features of biblical masculinity are explored: the masculinity of less favoured sons in Genesis Susan Haddock the ideology of Temple masculinity in Chronicles Roland Boer the masculinity of Moses Brian DiPalma the performative nature of masculinity in the Sinai episode David Clines Deuteronomy's regimentation of masculinity Mark George Joshua's hegemonic masculinity in the Conquest Narrative Ovidiu Creangă Na'aman's disability in relation to ideologies of masculinity Cheryl Strimple and Ovidiu Creangă Job's position as a man in charge in the Testament of Job Maria Haralambakis Priestly notions of sexuality in the Race and the Subject of Masculinities Harry Stecopoulos, Michael Uebel, 1997 Although in recent years scholars have explored the cultural construction of masculinity they have largely ignored the ways in which masculinity intersects with other categories of identity particularly those of race and ethnicity The essays in Race and the Subject of Masculinities address this concern and focus on the social construction of masculinity black white ethnic gay and straight in terms of the often complex and dynamic relationships among these inseparable categories Discussing a wide range of subjects including the inherent homoeroticism of martial arts cinema the relationship between working class ideologies and Elvis impersonators the emergence of a gay black masculine aesthetic in the works of James Van der Zee and Robert Mapplethorpe and the comedy of Richard Pryor Race and the Subject of Masculinities provides a variety of opportunities for thinking about how race sexuality and manhood are reinforced and reconstituted in today's society Editors Harry Stecopoulos and Michael Uebel have gathered together essays that make clear how the formation of masculine identity is never as obvious as it might seem to be Examining personas as varied as Eddie Murphy Bruce Lee Tarzan Malcolm X and Andre Gide these essays draw on feminist critique and queer theory to demonstrate how cross identification through performance and spectatorship among men of different races and cultural backgrounds has served to redefine masculinity in contemporary culture By taking seriously the role of race in the making of men Race and the Subject of Masculinities offers an important challenge to the new studies of masculinity Contributors Herman Beavers Jonathan Dollimore Richard Dyer Robin D G Kelly Christopher Looby Leerom Medovoi Eric Lott Deborah E McDowell Jos E Mu oz Harry Stecopoulos Yvonne Tasker Michael Uebel Gayle Wald Robyn Wiegman the limitations of current approaches to addressing boys education this study illustrates how initiatives such as single sex classes and schools for boys the boy friendly curriculum and the call for more male teachers as role models have the potential to exacerbate rather than ameliorate the problems that boys are supposedly experiencing in schools The book demonstrates that such approaches to boys education have failed to acknowledge the significant impact of masculinity on both boys and girls lives and in turn have failed to address equity issues experienced by both minority boys and girls in schools This study argues for new policies and a pedagogical reform agenda that engages with a more nuanced understanding of what constitutes good teaching and effective learning in schools for all students while simultaneously interrogating the constraints imposed by dominant or stereotypical constructions of masculinity Cracking the Male Code Brianne E.
