Transition Report European Bank Reconstruction:

Economic Developments in Contemporary Russia Ian Jeffries, 2011-03-07 This book provides a comprehensive overview of economic developments in Russia since the late 1990s Key subjects covered include economic transition privatization and liberalization changes in land ownership and agriculture energy foreign direct investment economic stabilization and economic performance

The Balkans Robert Bideleux, Ian Jeffries, 2007-01-24 An excellent companion volume to the successful A History of Eastern Europe this is a country by country treatment of the contemporary history of each of the Balkan states Albania Bulgaria Romania Croatia Serbia Bosnia and Herzegovina Macedonia Montenegro and Kosova With a distinctive conceptual framework for explaining divergent patterns of historical change the book shifts the emphasis away from traditional cultural explanations and concentrates on the pervasive influence of strongly entrenched vertical power structures and power relations Focusing on political and economic continuities and changes since the 1980s The Balkans includes brief overviews of the history of each state prior to the 1980s to provide the background to enable all students of Eastern European history to make sense of the more recent developments

Political Developments in Contemporary Russia Ian Jeffries, 2011-03-07 This book provides a comprehensive overview of political developments in Russia since late 1999 It covers all aspects of politics including central government and elections regional government and developments in the republics including in Chechnya and other Caucasian republics and human rights

Transition Report Europäische Bank für Wiederaufbau und Entwicklung, 1999

North Korea Ian Jeffries, 2013-06-17 There is much intense interest in North Korea at present This partly arises from questions about Korea's nuclear capability and intentions and about the extent to which North Korea may be viewed as a rogue state or part of the axis of evil In addition however North Korea has recently begun experimenting with reforms along Chinese lines The vigour with which these will be pursued and related questions about the degree of engagement or otherwise with South Korea are also important issues This book provides full details of economic and political developments in North Korea since 1989 when the communist world began to change irrevocably

Mongolia Ian Jeffries, 2007-03-16 This book provides a full account of the key political and economic events in Mongolia focusing on the period since the establishment of the Soviet backed Mongolian People's Republic in 1924 and the transition towards a democratic free market system since the collapse of the Soviet Union

Transition Report, 2006

Canada at the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development 2007 Canada. Department of Finance, 2008 The European Bank for Reconstruction and Development EBRD was established in 1991 Its aims are to foster the transition toward open market oriented economies in countries of Central and Southeastern Europe as well as in the successor states of the former Soviet Union and to promote private and entrepreneurial initiative in those countries that are committed to the fundamental principles of multi party democracy pluralism and market economics This report provides background information on the EBRD Canada's representation and role at the Bank and what happened in 2007 as well as operations for the year Includes text from document Banking Reforms in South-East Europe Zeliko Sevic, 2002 Banking Reforms in South East Europe gives a critical and detailed overview of banking system restructuring in the transitional countries of South Eastern Europe Albania Bosnia and Herzegovina Bulgaria Croatia Macedonia Romania and Yugoslavia and offers suggestions for future reforms The book opens with a comparison of the experiences of Central European advanced transitional economies with those of the Balkan countries Proposals are put forward for ways in which positive aspects of the Central European experience can be applied to banking reform in the Balkans The authors examine the importance of regional collaboration for the overall economic and social transition in the region and consider whether it can facilitate the next stage of banking reform They also analyse the results of currency board arrangements as a possible alternative to classical central banking using the experiences of Bulgaria Bosnia and the Yugoslav Republic of Montenegro The book concludes with an analysis of the experience of individual economies and consists of a number of country specific banking studies covering all the transitional economies of South East Europe The book will be of great interest to both scholars of transition economies and policymakers in finance and financial institutions Transition Report, 1995 European Bank for Reconstruction and Development, 1995-01-01 The purpose of the European Bank for Reconstruction and Development is to foster the transition to the market economy in the countries of Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union In the main this is carried out by the Bank through investments that promote the development of the private sector This series of annual Transition Reports of which this is the second provides an essential analysis for the Bank of both the transition and the role of investment in the process It will also be useful to others in business looking to invest in the new market economy or government and academics who are studying the process Modernizing Infrastructure in Transformation Economies Christian von Hirschhausen, 2002 This book should be thought provoking reading for academics and practitioners with a professional interest in infrastructure services policy design and the agenda for infrastructure reform in transition economies Christian von Hirschhausen's rigorous multi sector analysis provides a first time attempt at a balanced assessment of conceptual and practical issues regarding a critical area of the transition to markets The book also questions some of the generally accepted findings regarding what works and what doesn't in the restructuring of infrastructure in the former centrally planned economies with special attention to the political economy of reform Jos Carbajo European Bank for Reconstruction and Development EBRD London UK The theoretical basis is impressive and the empirical evidence authentic the book breathes the dust of Hungarian highways and the rust of Estonian power plants In over five years of field research the author has acquired an unmatched understanding of the topic and provides clear cut highly relevant policy conclusions for EU enlargement Axel Siedenberg Deutsche Bank Research Economics Germany This book is an insightful study of the neglected issue of the infrastructure of transition economies in Eastern Europe and the former Soviet Union It chronicles the socialist infrastructure's incompatibility with a market economy and its collapse using aggregate data and valuable case studies particularly of the energy and transport sectors Although there have been clear transition successes the search for an optimal infrastructure policy has been elusive Although market based solutions have delivered less than promised due to political economy and technological factors their results have not proven inferior to more conservative regulatory approaches

Modernizing Infrastructure in Transformation Economies rounds out our knowledge of a key aspect of the transition process and is to be recommended to all serious scholars of transition and European integration Paul Gregory University of Houston US This is the first comprehensive treatment of a highly topical issue The message of this book is that transition economies need a substantial overhaul of their infrastructure but that they should ponder gradual rather than radical ways for deregulation and privatization Institutional technical and financial constraints should not be ignored and one fits all type policies are inappropriate Irina Akimova Institute for Economic Research Ukraine The design of infrastructure policies is a controversial issue in the transition economies of Eastern Europe where the dismal state of infrastructure was widely regarded to be one of the major obstacles to economic recovery and sustained growth With the imminent enlargement of the EU Christian von Hirschhausen provides a detailed reflective analysis of the state of infrastructure development in Eastern Europe The author illustrates the different approaches to modernizing infrastructure and the successes that have been achieved in terms of fiscal relief private investment and increased efficiency Based upon a comparative institutional analysis and extensive field research and case studies he provides empirical evidence from different sectors power gas railways roads R D with particular emphasis on countries such as Poland Hungary the Czech Republic the Baltics and Russia Given the substantial institutional instability of the early years of transition the author promotes a gradual but time consistent approach to liberalization as a more promising path towards a market economy and increased efficiency The author offers sound policy recommendations on how best to achieve the successful modernization of East European infrastructure in the course of EU enlargement This book will be indispensable to all researchers and academics of European integration and transition economics policymakers in the EU and institutions such as development banks which are active in the restructuring process in Eastern Europe and EU enlargement

The Integration Process Between Eastern and Western Europe Daniel Piazzolo, 2001-08-22 The integration of the Central and Eastern European transition countries into the European Union is one of the most exciting economic policy issues of today The book provides a detailed analysis of the economic effects which EU integration has on accession countries It shows that these countries have already managed to fully remove the anti trade bias with the EU that existed before the fall of the iron curtain Benefits from further integration into the EU could result in particular from the fact that full membership in the European Community will increase the credibility of government policy in accession countries The study explores in depth how these credibility effects can be quantified The author develops a novel approach to model the transformation process within a dynamic computable general equilibrium framework Furthermore he estimates the potential income and welfare effects of EU integration for Poland the largest transition country with EU candidate status Post-Soviet Affairs ,2000 Eurasia Rising Georgeta Pourchot,2008-07-30 Although the score of countries comprising Russia s near abroad the former non Russian Soviet republics and far abroad the former non Russian Warsaw Pact states are behaving with variably increasing independence in their domestic and foreign policies Russia continues to regard them as remaining within the same core periphery sphere of influence formerly exerted by the Soviet Union within the same geographic space Russia misinterprets bids by these countries to adopt liberalizing structural reforms and to join Euro Atlantic organizations as foreign inspired and inimical to Russia s security Whether Russia can learn to recognize that such bids are in fact natural developments of national self interest will determine whether healthy and mutually beneficial bilateral relations can develop between Russia and the states of her near and far abroad in the 21st century No previous study of the dynamics of post Soviet assertive sovereignty has as broad a geographic scope as Eurasia Rising which considers the whole of Post Soviet Space DT Belarus Moldova Ukraine DT_ Estonia Latvia Lithuania DT Armenia Azerbaijan Georgia DT Kazakhstan Kyrgyzstan Tajikistan Turkmenistan Uzbekistan DT Albania Bulgaria Czech Republic Hungary Poland Romania Slovakia POLITICS AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP IN TRANSITION ECONOMICS SIMON JOHNSON, DANIEL KAUFMAN, AND ANDREI SHLEIFER,1997 Privatisation in Serbia Božidar Cerović,2006

South-east Europe Review for Labour and Social Affairs ,2009 The Steel Industry in the New Millennium: Institutions, privatisation and social dimensions Ruggero Ranieri, Enrico Gibellieri,1998 Industrial Competitiveness in East-Central Europe Martin R. Myant,1999 This analysis of industrial competitiveness asks if the manufacturing industry in East Central Europe will survive when the host countries join the EU It challenges the assumption that such industries will have little difficulty in establishing maintaining a competitive position after EU entry OECD Economic Surveys ,2002
