Godev, 2017-09-07 This book examines the spaces where translation and globalization intersect whether they be classrooms communities or cultural texts It foregrounds the connections between cultural analysis literary critique pedagogy and practice uniting the disparate fields that operate within translation studies In doing so it offers fresh perspectives that will encourage the reader to reappraise translation studies as a field reaffirming the directions that the subject has taken over the last twenty years Offering a comprehensive analysis of the links between translation and globalization this ambitious edited collection will appeal to students and scholars who work in any area of translation studies

Translation and Globalization Michael Cronin,2003
Translations, Culture and Power Relations. Aspects of Modern Globalization Rene Fassbender,2018-08-17 Essay from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Culture and Applied Geography grade 1 0 University of Bristol language English abstract In the last few decades the world has experienced unprecedented globalization which for translators offers a host of opportunities It is one of the key elements of our profession to make foreign material accessible to a culture that could otherwise not enjoy it And the demand has been soaring Modern technology has revolutionized people s self conception by making them more aware of their international neighbors Accordingly businesses want to sell their products beyond national borders medical studies are conducted on global scales best selling novels like the Harry Potter Series are translated into dozens of languages and turned into movies within just a few years of their publication Translation is a driving force in this new cultural landscape

Translation and Globalization Michael Cronin,2003 Translation, Globalisation and Localisation Ning Wang,Yifeng Sun,2008 The essays in this anthology deal with translation studies in a global local context and from a Chinese perspective Topics such as globalisation postcolonial theory diaspora writing polysystem theory and East West comparative literary and cultural studies are all discussed

The Metalanguage of Translation Yves Gambier,Luc van Doorslaer,2009 Let the meta discussion begin James Holmes urged in 1972 Coming almost forty years later years filled with fascinating and often unexpected developments in the interdiscipline of Translation Studies this volume offers the reader a multiplicity of meta perspectives while also moving the discussion forward Indeed the re production and re use of metalinguistic metaphors frame and partly determine our views on research so such a discussion is vital as it is in any scholarly discipline Among other questions the eleven contributors draw the reader s attention to the often puzzling variations of usage and conceptualization in both the theory and the practice of translation First published as a special issue of Target 19 2 2007 the volume runs the gamut of metalinguistic topics ranging from terminology localization and epistemological questions through the Chinese perspective to the conceptual mapping of the online Translation Studies Bibliography

Translation Basil Hatim,Jeremy Munday,2004 Provides support for advanced study of translation Examines the theory and practice of translation from many angles drawing on a wide range of languages and exploring a variety of sources Concludes with readings from key figures

PROCEEDINGS OF THE THIRD INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON GLOBALIZATION: CHALLENGES FOR TRANSLATORS AND INTERPRETERS Zhiqing Zhang,Youbin Zhao,Xinjie

Wang, 2020-05-26 With the implementation of the Belt and Road Initiative and the development of Guangdong Hong Kong Macau Greater Bay Area the demand for translators and interpreters continues to grow in China The breakthrough in artificial intelligence which has contributed to an enormous improvement in the quality of machine translation means challenges and opportunities for translators and interpreters as well as studies of translation and interpreting Studies of translation and interpreting have been further expanded and diversified in the era of globalized communications The interrelation between translation and globalization is essential reading for not only scholars and educators but also anyone with an interest in translation and interpreting studies or a concern for the future of our world's languages and cultures By focusing on the connection between the two various researches have been conducted in all forms of communication between languages including translation interpreting cross cultural communication language teaching and the various specializations involved in such activities This has resulted in The Third International Conference on Globalization Challenges for Translators and Interpreters co organized by the School of Translation Studies Jinan University on its Zhuhai campus and South China Business College Guangdong University of Foreign Studies November 16 17 2019 The response to the conference was once more overwhelming which was partly attributed to the previous two conferences held successfully under the same title Apart from five keynote speakers over one hundred and fifty participants came from universities institutions or organizations from mainland China Spain New Zealand as well as Hong Kong and Macao to attend the event contributing over 130 papers in total Among the keynote speakers are internationally renowned scholars in translation studies such as Dr Roberto Valde n professor of English Linguistics at the University of Oviedo Spain and the Chief Editor of Perspective Studies in Translatology Dr Sun Yifeng chair professor of Translation Studies and head of the English Department at the University of Macau Dr Tan Zaixi distinguished professor of Shenzhen University and Chair Professor of Beijing Foreign Studies University and Professor Emeritus of Hong Kong Baptist University After careful evaluation and compilation 90 papers have been selected for this conference proceedings which was summarized into the following four topics Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice Translation and Cross cultural Studies Evaluation of Translation and Interpretation and Studies on the Teaching of Translation By no means is it difficult to find some interesting and thought provoking papers under each topic For example concerning Translation and Interpreting Theory and Practice To Translate or not to Translate That is the Question On Metaphor Translation in Chinese Political works by Dong Yu explains that in judging whether or not a Chinese metaphor can be translated into English an indispensable step is to decide whether or not the two cultural connotations can be connected But this can easily be influenced by subjective factors Yu has suggested some ways in which subjective factors could be controlled to some extent so that the translator could be more confident in his or her decision He has also suggested three steps The first step is to assume that the cultural connotation of the Chinese metaphor can be connected with that of its English version For example the metaphor in could be translated as rain or shine The second step is to find out whether or not this translated version is acceptable both linguistically and culturally in English. The third step is to consider the systematicity of the metaphor in regard with the context in both the source and target texts. This involves a process of recontextualization. When it comes to Translation and Cross cultural Studies, On Translation of the English Guide interpreter from the Perspective of Intercultural Communication by Fengxia Liua and Xiaoning Bi points out that inbound tourism serves as a window through which foreign tourists get to know China, so the interaction between the guide interpreters and foreign tourists are the typical activity of cultural communication. Foreign language speaking guides are usually regarded as people to people ambassadors or cultural ambassadors who have played an essential role in the international tourist industry. Therefore they argue that it is extremely important for tourist guides to cultivate their cross cultural communication awareness, enhance their overall communicative competence, observe and distinguish east and west differences with multi dimensional perspective, transcend cultural barriers and learn to use translation skills. Studies on the Teaching of Translation is another interesting topic that has attracted enormous attention, such as Business Translation Teaching from the Perspective of Metaphors by Dandan Li, which explores application of conceptual metaphor theory in the translation process of business lexicons, business discourse and business English culture, so as to provide a new perspective in business English pedagogy. Another study entitled Cognitive Studies in Translation by Xin Huang analyzes the cognitive studies of translation interpreting processes over the past three decades with focus on the issues examined, the findings reached, as well as the recent development. She explains that cognitive studies of translation process examine the translation competence on line translation behaviors, such as how the eye gazes and how the words are typed and the brain activities when doing translation. Special interests are paid to the working memory, problem solving, the executive function and some linguistic relative factors such as text difficulty. Over the past thirty years, the interest in the field has been gaining considerable momentum and increasing issues have been involved. Finally she concludes that with the advancement of technologies and interdisciplinary approaches, the black box, the previously unforeseeable cognitive activities of how human process translation can be unfolded. Considering the importance of integrating theory with practice, the proceedings are therefore compiled in such a way as to be balanced and inclusive in the hope of summarizing current accomplishments as well as providing certain insights for teaching and further research in the field of translation and interpretation studies.

Translation, Globalisation and Localisation Wang Ning, Sun Yifeng, 2008-03-28. The global local distinction has changed significantly and the topic has been heatedly debated in literary and cultural as well as translation scholarship. In this age of globalisation, the traditional definition of translation has been altered. In the present anthology, translation is viewed as a cultural and political practice and accordingly translation studies is based on a heightened awareness of global local tensions in translation and of its moderating and transforming impact on local cultural paradigms. All the essays in this anthology deal with issues of translation from a cultural and theoretic perspective with regard to tensions and conflicts between global and local interests and values No matter how different their approaches may seem the essays are thematically integrated to discuss translation in a dialectical framework either globalising Chinese issues internationally or localising general and international issues domestically
