Stellar Collapse:

Stellar Collapse Chris L. Fryer, 2004-04-30 Supernovae hypernovae and gamma ray bursts are among the most energetic explosions in the universe The light from these outbursts is for a brief time comparable to billions of stars and can outshine the host galaxy within which the explosions reside Most of the heavy elements in the universe are formed within these energetic explosions Surprisingly enough the collapse of massive stars is the primary source of not just one but all three of these explosions As all of these explosions arise from stellar collapse to understand one requires an understanding of the others Stellar Collapse marks the first book to combine discussions of all three phenomena focusing on the similarities and differences between them Designed for graduate students and scientists newly entering this field this book provides a review not only of these explosions but the detailed physical models used to explain them from the numerical techniques used to model neutrino transport and gamma ray transport to the detailed nuclear physics behind the evolution of the collapse to the observations that have led to these three classes of explosions Supernovae, Neutrinos, and Neutron Stars Hong-yee Chiu, 1964 NASA Technical Note, 1964 Sixth Marcel Grossmann Meeting, The: On Recent Developments In Theoretical And Experimental General Relativity, Gravitation And Relativistic Field Theories (In 2 Volumes) Humitaka Sato, 1993-01-08 The Marcel Grossmann Meetings have been conceived with the aim of reviewing recent advances in gravitation and general relativity with particular emphasis on mathematical foundations and physical predictions The overall programme includes the broad categories of mathematical techniques cosmology quantum gravity astrophysics gravitational radiation and experimental developments The proceedings contain invited and contributed papers Ninth Texas Symposium on Relativistic Astrophysics Jürgen Ehlers, Judith J.
