Besieged James Lasdun,2012-10-22 James Lasdun s two collections of short stories Delirium Eclipse and Three Evenings have won him outstanding praise as one of the most distinctive British writers of his generation both as a stylist and as a storyteller His work has been described by the New York Times Book Review as an elegant pathology report on the modern soul and the Village Voice calls his prose art that burrows into troubling new territory even as it glides by like a dream Besieged shows his gift for exploring the undertones of contemporary experience at its most haunting and electrically charged Against a variety of stunningly evoked backgrounds from the teeming banks of the Ganges in Varanasi to a homeless shelter in New York these powerful intensely focused narratives reverberate as Michiko Kakutani put it in the New York Times insistently in the reader's mind long after he has finished the book In Ate Menos or The Miracle a young man takes unscrupulous advantage of a woman who mistakes him for someone else and finds himself enmeshed in her desperate obsessions and nightmares In The Siege a wealthy recluse falls in love with the immigrant woman who lives in his basement On discovering she is married and that her husband is a political prisoner he embarks on a course of action that will lead simultaneously to his destruction and to his salvation Two of the stories in this collection were made into major independent film Ate Menos was the basis for the film Sunday which won the Grand Jury Best Feature Award at Sundance The Siege was adapted by Bernardo Bertolucci for his film Besieged

New Perspectives on Arabian Nights Wen-chin Ouyang, Geert Jan van Gelder, 2014-02-04 Adopting a multi disciplinary approach this comparative study of a selection of The Arabian Nights stories in a cross cultural context brings together a number of disciplines and subject areas to examine the workings of narrative It predominantly focuses on the ways in which the Arabian Nights have transformed as its stories have travelled across historical eras cultures genres and media Departing from the familiar approaches of influence and textual studies this book locates its central inquiry in the theoretical questions surrounding the workings of ideology genre and genre ideology in shaping and transforming stories The ten essays included in this volume respond to a general question what can the transformation of Nights stories in their travels tell us about narrative and storytelling and their function in a particular culture Following a Nights story in its travels from past to present from Middle East to Europe and from literature to film the book engages in close comparative analyses of ideological variations found in a variety of texts These analyses allow new modes of reading texts and make it possible to breach new horizons for thinking about narrative This Book was previously published as a special issue of Middle Eastern Literatures entitled Ideological Variations and Narrative Horizons New Perspectives on Arabian Nights
