Dugan, 2008-10-17 A Brazilian military regime thought to have been eradicated years ago has resurfaced This underground repression agency is believed to be behind the recent attacks on several indigenous tribes throughout the Amazon Soon these attacks reach the small village of Malocas where three Peace Corps volunteers are stationed To make matters worse the CEO of an American based business seems to be financially backing this insurgency with aspirations of having unrestricted and monopolized access to the vast resources of the rainforest It appears that someone is pitting everyone involved against each other the military faction the Fortune 500 Company the Peace Corps and their volunteers These three volunteers a spoiled alcoholic playboy a small town girl with a family secret and a Peace Corps veteran are the only ones who may be able to end this prolonged foray and stop the rainforest from being completely destroyed Sometimes even on a mission of peace war is inevitable Resources in Education, 1980-10 Priorities in Aquatic Resources Research in the Asia-Pacific Region Modadugu V. Nationality In Time Perspective is a concerted effort at interrogating the history and cultural practices of the mega Isoko clans with a concomitant foray into a concise discussion of the mini groups outside the main shores of Isoko The approach of the author is novel and commendable The author availed himself with existing literatures and interpreted same within the limit of new sources The strong point of this work is the effort of the author in trying to weave the history of the Isoko people from the perspective of being one as epitomized by their intra group relations The view is that the Isoko were are not a disparate ethnic nationality The language of the author is acceptable and the font reader friendly The book is also illustrated with photographs The book is recommended for scholars administrators and all those truly committed to understanding who we are where we are coming from where we are and what the future holds for us
